CONGRESS.

Report on the Sale of Arms.

THE CONCLUSIONS OF THE COMMITTEE.

Investigating Frontier Depredations.

WASHINGTON, April 15, 1872.

SENATE.

STEAMSHIP SERVICE IN THE PACIFIC.

Mr. COLE submitted resolutions of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, asking the establishment of steamship service between the San Francisco Islands in the Pacific; also asking an increase of mail service between San Francisco, China and Japan. Referred.

PROTEST AGAINST THE CESSION OF GOAT ISLAND.

Mr. COLE presented a protest of thirty-four thousand leading citizens of San Francisco against the cession of Goat Island to the Central Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Cole supported the prayer of the memorialists in a few brief remarks.

Mr. CASSERLY called attention to the fact that probably there never had come up from any community a petition signed by so large a proportion of its citizens.

The memorial was then laid on the table.

INTERMENT OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

On motion of Mr. WILSON, from the Committee on Military Affairs, a bill was passed permitting the interment in national cemeteries of all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors.

WILSON SEWING MACHINE PATENT.

Memorials were presented protesting against the renewal of the Wilson sewing machine patent. They were laid on the table, the committee having reported adversely on the bill to renew the patent.

EXACTIONS ON OMAHA BRIDGE.

Mr. TRUMBULL presented a memorial protesting against exactions on freight and travel over the railroad bridge between Omaha and Council Bluffs.

BILLS INTRODUCED

By Mr. MORRILL, (Vt.,) providing that no money shall be paid from the proceeds in the Treasury of any captured or abandoned property without a special appropriation hereafter to be made therefor.

By Mr. CONKLING, directing the sale of the site of the present Post Office in the city of New York to the New York Chamber of Commerce, for the sum of $200,000, in such payments as may be agreed on.

SOUTHERN OUTRAGES.

On motion of Mr. SCOTT, Monday next was set apart for consideration of the bill reported from the Joint Select Committee on Outrages in the late insurrectionary States, extending discretion to the President to suspend writs of habeas corpus until the end of this Congress.

HOUSE.

SUPPLEMENTARY CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

Mr. Hooper's supplementary civil rights bill came up. Much time was consumed on dilatory motions thereon.

PETITIONS.

Mr. COX presented petitions against further land grants, and against recognizing God in the Constitution for religious liberty.

RAILWAY GRANT CONFIRMED.

On motion of Mr. DUNNELL, a bill was passed, confirming to the Port Huron & Lake Michigan Railroad Company the grant of land made by Michigan for a railroad from Grand Haven to Flint, and thence to Port Huron.

BRIDGE OVER THE MISSISSIPPI.

On motion of Mr. LOGAN, a bill was passed authorizing the construction of a wagon and railroad bridge across the Missouri river at Quincy.

REPORT ON SALE OF ARMS.

Mr. WILLIAMS, of Indiana, chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, made a report, with the testimony taken on the investigation into the sale of arms and ordnance stores during the Franco-Prussian war. Ordered printed, together with the views of the minority.

The committee reports the following conclusions:

First—That the act of Congress of the 20th of July, authorizing the sale of arms, gave, by a fair interpretation of its letter and spirit, full authority to the Secretary of War to sell and dispose of the arms and ordnance stores in question, and in doing so he violated neither the letter nor spirit of the law.

Second—That the proceeds of the sales were promptly paid into the treasury.

Third—That no sales were made to any known agent of either of the belligerent governments, and that no act was done by the Secretary of War or any of his subordinates that was calculated to impair or violate any international obligation.

Fourth—That no official of the United States Government was pecuniarily benefitted in connection with the sales.

Fifth—That the only party benefitted was the Government of the United States, in having disposed of unsuitable arms at the highest market price to the amount of nearly ten million dollars.

RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the river and harbor improvement bill, which appropriates above $5,000,000, including $225,000 for the removal of Hell Gate and other obstructions in the East River at New York.

The bill was passed with but few unimportant amendments.

INVESTIGATING FRONTIER DEPREDATIONS.

Mr. HANCOCK introduced a bill for the appointment by the President of three commissioners at a salary of ten dollars per day each, to inquire into depredations on the frontiers of Texas by bands of Indians and Mexicans, and appropriating $6,000 for the expenses of the commissioners.

The bill was passed and the House adjourned.

The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up, and various amendments adopted, after which Senate adjourned.

UTAH.

Mormon Conference—Opposition Organization Forming—Sulphur Deposit Discovered—The Weather.

SALT LAKE, April 14.—The Mormon Conference resumed its session to-day at the Tabernacle. Their is a comparatively small attendance.

OPPOSITION ORGANIZATION.

The miners of the Star, Lincoln and other districts in the southern part of this Territory are forming a secret organization to oppose the secret influence of the Mormon Endowment House, and among the other objects to bring to justice the instigators and perpetrators of the Mountain Meadow massacre. There are already over two hundred members.

THE WEATHER.

In Little Cottonwood two feet additional snow fell last night. In this city last night there was snow six inches deep. It is melting rapidly today. We have had the worst weather this spring ever known, and there is fear of a further blockade of the railroads.

SULPHUR DEPOSIT.

An extensive deposit of crystalized sulphur has been discovered in the Beaver Mountains, within three hundred miles of this city.

ST. LOUIS.

Acquittal of Fore—Oceanus Disaster.

ST. LOUIS, MO., April 15.—The jury in the case of Joseph H. Fore brought in a verdict of acquital this morning.

THE OCEANUS DISASTER.

The inquest on the bodies of the victims of the explosion of the steamer Oceanus closed yesterday. The jury's verdict states that they are unable to determine the cause of the explosion. Although about a dozen steamers have reached here since the explosion, intelligence of the finding of only two additional bodies has been brought by them, and these bodies were not identified.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The abrogation of the French passport system will take effect on the 20th inst.

—The Apaches, improving the opportunity offered by the suspension of the campaign against them in Arizona, are raiding on the settlers in all directions.

—A Scranton dispatch reports a serious caving in of an embankment three miles from that city, on the Lackawanna and Bloomsbury Railroad, caused by the late freshet.

—The Philadelphia Grand Jury, yesterday morning, indicted Charles A. Dana for libel on Ex-State Treasurer Kemble in an article in the Sun relative to the Evans frauds.

—Reports are current that troubles have grown out of the recent diplomatic negotiations between France and Germany. The relations between the two countries are said to be again in a critical condition.

—A Columbia (S. C.) dispatch says that the striking stone cutters on Government work there were reinstated on Tuesday. But three of the foremost strikers were discharged. The wages were reduced, thus leaving the eight hour question where it was before.

—John J. Chandler, one of the oldest and most influential citizens of Evansville, Ind., and President of the gas and horse railroad companies, died yesterday morning. He was also President of the Lake Erie, Evansville & Southwestern Railroad Company. His age was about fifty-six years.

—A Washington special has the following: It is now learned that the Spanish Government offers to release Dr. Howard as an act of friendliness on their part toward the United States Government. At the same time they not are willing to admit that the least injustice has attached to their action in the trial and imprisonment of Howard.

—A Leechburg (Va.) dispatch says that what appears to be a Borgia case has just been discovered in that place. A Mrs. Emily E. Lloyd, a lady of respectability, is suspected of poisoning her whole family, consisting of her husband and four children, as well as an elderly lady relative, who was visiting her. After the death of the last child, about the close of March, an analyzation of its stomach by Prof. Tonry, of Baltimore, disclosed the existence of arsenic, and on the announcement of that fact, late on Saturday, the Coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the child had been poisoned by its mother. The other bodies are to be disinterred and analyzed. The only solution of these crimes is that the woman desired to re-marry, and put the children out of the way for her new lover.

Tax on Matches Removed.

THE DUTY ON COPPER.

Mormon Case Decided.

WASHINGTON, April 15, 1872.

TAX ON MATCHES REMOVED.

The Committee on Ways and Means to-day took off the stamp duty on matches, making a difference of two and a quarter millions in the revenue, and reduced the tariff on copper on an average of one per cent. The Committee will not report the revenue and tariff bills till tomorrow. Many important changes have been made since Saturday.

THE DUTY ON COPPER.

The Committee on Ways and Means to-day agreed that in lieu of the duties now imposed by law there shall be paid on all copper imported in the form of ores two and a half cents on each pound of fine copper contained therein; on all regulus of copper and all black or coarse copper three cents on each pound of fine copper contained therein: on all old copper, fit only for remanufacture, three and one-fourth per pound; on all copper in plates, bars, ingots and pigs, and in all forms not manufactured or herein stated, including sulphate of copper, (blue vitriol) four cents per pound; on copper in rolled plates, called braziers, copper in sheets, rods, pipes, and copper bottoms, and all manufactures of copper, or of which copper shall be the component of chief value, not otherwise herein provided for, forty per cent. ad valorem.

MORMON CASE DECIDED.

The Supreme Court to-day rendered a unanimous decision in the Mormon case of Clinton against Englebrecht, reversing the judgment of the Supreme Court of Utah, on the ground that the jury which tried it was not collected in conformity with law. The summonses were invalid, and it follows that the indictments against Mormons for "lewd and lascivious cohabitation" are illegal, and all proceedings had against them must fall to the ground. The decision sustained the position taken by the Utah District Attorney, Bates.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 13, 1872.

REFUNDING OF TAXES.

The Senate yesterday passed a bill for repayment of taxes on distilled spirits in bond destroyed by fire or other casuality on satisfactory proof being presented to the Secretary of the Treasury.

This is in accordance with justice and will be well received as evidence that Congress means to act fairly with every class of citizens. Equally just and proper is the proposition to refund the cotton tax which is bearing down upon the cotton producing class in violation of precedent and the accepted construction of the national constitution requiring uniformity and equality of taxes upon the people.

It was imagined that this tax would fall on the consumer, but experience has proved that nineteen-twentieths of it fall on producers and needy tillers of the soil, who are thus prevented from carrying on or extending agricultural operations, to the injury of the entire country. The amount of the tax which was thus taken from an already impoverished people, both black and white, was levied by a mistaken policy, which could only have occurred in the desolating tracks of war.

It is justly claimed that as the cotton tax only affected the cotton growing States, it was unequal, and consequently unconstitutional; therefore unjust. The Chicago Relief Bill proposing drawbacks of two dollars on all Canadian lumber shipped to Chicago, has developed to no little extent the views that several Senators and Members hold on the question of the constitutionality of a law which directly or indirectly levies a tax on a part of the country for the benefit of the whole. As does the drawback of duties on lumber for the Chicago relief affect Michigan principally, so did the cotton tax exclusively on the cotton growing States.

The bill now before the Committee proposes to refund the tax in cotton bonds at 4½ per cent. in gold, to run for forty years.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Hon. Henry Stanberry made an argument in the Supreme Court yesterday in favor of the issuing of a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the Ku Klux prisoners confined in South Carolina. The ground of the argument was that on the indictment against the prisoners charging murder, the trial should have taken place in the courts of the State instead of before the United States Court. The case was opened by Solicitor General Bristow, and Hon. Reverdy Johnson will conclude the argument on Monday.

Secretary Boutwell yesterday ordered the release to her owners of the steamer Hornet, which has been lying at the port of Baltimore a long time.

An official dispatch from the American charge at Madrid states that the Captain General of Cuba telegraphs to the Minister of State that Dr. Howard's father renounced his nationality in accepting the post of Commissioner of Police at Cienfuegos, and that Dr. Howard had no foreign papers, but registered as a Spaniard.

The Geneva matter was talked over informally at the Cabinet meeting yesterday.

AGATE.

PHILOSOPHY IN POLITICS.

What the Tribune Agriculturist Has Done in the Past.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says:

Since his celebrated letter dissolving the famous political ring of Tweed, Seward and Greeley, Mr. Greeley has never led his party, Whig or Republican, in his own State. But he has always led a faction. It has happened that General Grant has not given to him and his faction the consideration that he felt they deserved. This is the matter with him. Mr. Greeley has rendered eminent service to the cause of freedom, but his ill-balanced judgment has caused him, on several occasions, to approach very near the point of undoing all that he had done and ruining his country.

In the dark days of 1864, when the expiration of the three years' enlistments was depleting our armies, everywhere held at bay; when gold reached 280; when patriots were depressed, and rebels exultant, Mr. Greeley appeared at Washington, and backed by the then great power of the Tribune, demanded that efforts be made for peace. Sensible men knew that at such a time no peace could be obtained that was not a virtual surrender to the rebellion.

Mr. Lincoln, with adroit diplomacy, escaped the danger by sending Greeley on a fool's errand to Canada.

It was also fortunate that Jeff. Davis then ruled at Richmond. Had Stephens met the philosopher of the Tribune in negotiation, who can estimate the peril of the country in the unequal contest. Happily that danger is past. Mr. Lincoln was renominated over the opposition of Mr. Greeley, and re-elected, and the war for the Union was a success. I happen to know, however, that this movement of Mr. Greeley gave Mr. Lincoln more poignant anguish than any event of the kind during the war. It was a fire in the rear that he had not anticipated. And now when the war issues are rapidly approaching settlement, when the seal to this will be given by the re-election of General Grant, the great Marplot again appears upon the stage of action. But the power of the Tribune is gone—that great national journal, under a narrow policy, is fast shrinking to the confines of New York city, and will soon be known only as the hireling instrument of grinding monopolies.

These are the men, East and West, who have called the May Convention—and for what? In vain do we inquire. Harmonious in their abuse of General Grant, they are harmonious in nothing else. Clamorous for a new party, no two of them can agree as to what their new party shall represent. Yet a party is not an end, only the means for obtaining an end. When a great question arises, which existing parties do not meet, a new party representing it naturally arises. Thus arose the Republican party on the slavery question. But what great question now exists, not met by existing parties, and requiring a new party? None, absolutely none. This fact alone proclaims the utter hollowness of the whole movement. It is personal in its origin, in its aims and its inspirations. Ambitious men, self-seeking men, disappointed men, dissatisfied men, crotchety men, fickle men, united in nothing, unite in abusing Gen. Grant. There is a clamor about corruption and reform. This is the stale cry against every administration—always more or less true, always more or less false. It is less true about this administration than any preceding one. No administration has ever been subjected to such an ordeal of investigation—none could have stood it so well. To every charge of fraud against General Grant, I oppose this great historic fact. At the call of his country he entered its military service a penniless private soldier; he came from the war at the head of his country's armies a triumphant conqueror, yet as penniless as when he entered. The country will not forget this. The historian will record it, and unborn generations will applaud.

The tariff question might furnish a tangible basis for a new party. It is important, and neither of the existing parties meet it. Yet, the very threshold of the new movement, the only effort in this direction is to find a way of evading it. The billing and cooing of the Tribune and World on this point is simply disgraceful.

Chinese Official News.

An Imperial Chinese edict is noticed in the Pekin Gazette, having for its object an Army Reform. After providing for certain promotions, it announces that Lieutenant Colonel Hwa Feng "is dismissed on account of old age and general infirmity; and that Ting Jen-lin is degraded because of his physical weakness." These are honorable dismissals and degradations; but alas! Capt. Han Hsiencheun, of the Kiang-yin battalion, is cashiered "on account of his slowness and stupidity," while Major Wang-wen, of the Hung-hu regiment, is dismissed "on account of obstinacy, stupidity, laziness and cupidity." This Major Wang-wen must be a character, and perhaps he ought to have been retained as an ornament of the service. An office combining the character of the mule, of the jackass and of the sloth, with the eminently human foible of avarice, is what we have never been able to boast of in our own army. We have had each of these virtues separately in individuals, but have we ever had them united in one person?

IN an Illinois village the colored Baptists and Methodists recently indulged in a baptizing match for the championship. The former flock produced the largest number of converts, but the Methodists fell back on some of the old members, and came out ahead.

Judge Barnard's counsel publish a letter referring to the report of the Bar Association and protesting against any adverse opinion in the case by the public on this prejudiced manifesto. They contend that in the hearing all the rules of evidence were ignored; that no impeachment was warranted unless the same was had upon hearsay testimony; also, that an attempt to remove Judge Barnard without trial is unconstitutional. Judge Barnard himself has written a lengthy protest and exceptions to the line of proceeding of the prosecution.

MEETING OF REFORMERS.

Under the call issued by a number of members of the Committee of Seventy, a meeting was held on Saturday evening at an up-town hotel, for the purpose of taking a preliminary step for the organization and enrollment of all reform voters pledged to the principles of the Committee of Seventy, who are to be independent of all other political organizations. An executive committee was appointed, and an announcement made that the necessary enrollment for the forthcoming election would be begun forthwith.

POLITICAL.

National Colored Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, April 15.—Governor Ransier, of South Carolina, submitted the following of the Committee on Platforms, which was unanimously adopted:

Regretting the necessity which has called into existence a colored convention, and deeply sensible of the responsibilities which have been entrusted to our consideration, we hereby acknowledge but gratitude for past triumphs on behalf of equal rights, and respectfully submit our peculiar grievance to the immediate attention of the following platform and resolutions:

First—We thank God, the friends of universal liberty in this and other lands, the bravest of colored soldiers, and the loyalty of the colored people, for our emancipation, our citizenship and our enfranchisement.

Second—Owing our political emancipation in this country to Republican legislation, to which all other parties and political shades of opinion were unjustly and violently opposed, we would be blind to our prospects and false to our best interest did we identify ourselves with any other organization, and as all roads out of the Republican party lead into the Democratic camp, we pledge our unswerving devotion and support to the nominees of the Philadelphia Convention.

Third—We sincerely and gratefully endorse the administration of President U. S. Grant, in maintaining our liberties, in protecting us in our privilege, in punishing our enemies, in the day of recognition of the claims of men without regard to color, by appointing us to important official positions at home and abroad, in the assurance he has given to defend our rights, and that while we in our gratefulness acknowledge and appreciate his efforts in behalf of equal rights, we are not unmindful of his glory as a soldier and his exalted virtues as a statesman.

Fourth—Our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to President Grant for over-riding the precedents of prejudices in the better recognition of the services of men without regard to color in some parts of the country. We earnestly pray that the colored Republicans of the States where there are no federal positions given to colored men may no longer be ignored, but that they will be stimulated by some recognition of federal patronage.

Fifth—It would be an ingratitude, loathed by men and abhored by God, did we not acknowledge our overwhelming indebtedness to the services of the Hon. Charles Sumner, who stood for a long time alone in the Senate of the United States, the Gibraltar of our cause and the north star of our hopes, who forfeited caste in the estimation of a large portion of his countrymen by his unswerving devotion to equal rights, who has been maligned for his fidelity to principles, who has been stricken down by an assassin for advocating liberty throughout all the land and unto all the inhabitants thereof, and whose great body, rising, as it were, almost out of the grave, to marshal the hosts of impartial justice, with his mighty ideas, going to the farthest part of the land, and finding a responsive echo in the triumph of liberty over slavery. We have an assurance of this good, great and beloved patriot that he will be as faithful to the Republican party in the future as he has been unfaltering in the past.

Sixth—That while men, professing strong radical sentiments, and were elected to Congress by overwhelming majorities of the colored voters, were found voting against the supplementary civil rights bill in the Senate of the United States, we honor that manly exhibition of devotion to the principles of the Republican party which influenced the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Vice President of the United States, to honor the cause of justice by recording his casting vote as President of the Senate in favor of equality before the law, as indicated in the suplementary civil rights bill as it passed the Senate by virtue of the aforesaid casting vote.

Seventh—Having been, by solemn legislation of the American Congress, raised to the dignity of citizenship, we appeal to the law-abiding people of the States, and especially those who in the days of the fugitive slave law exhorted obedience to the statutes, however offensive, to protect and defend us in the enjoyment of our just rights and privileges upon all conveyances which are common carriers, at all resorts of public amusements where tastes are cultivated and manhood is quickened, and in all places of a public character or corporate association which owe their existence to the legislation of the nation or State against the spirit of slavery which attempts to degrade our standard of intelligence and virtue by forcing our refined ladies and gentlemen into smoking cars amid obscenity and vulgarity, which humiliates our pride, by denying us first-class accommodations on steamboats and compelling us to eat and sleep with servants, for which we are charged the same as those who have the best accommodations, and which close the door of hotels against famishing colored person, however wealthy, intelligent or respectable they may be, while all other public places and conveyances welcome and entertain white persons, whatever may be their character, who may apply. Now, in view of the disgraceful inconsistency of this affectation of prejudice, this rebellion against the laws of God, humanity and the nation, we appeal to the justice of the American people to protect us in our civil rights in public places and upon public conveyances, which are readily accorded, and very justly, to the most degraded specimens of our white fellow-citizens.

Eighth—That wherever Republicans have betrayed their colored constituency we recommend that better men be elected to succeed them, and especially do we pledge ourselves to elect successors in Congress wherever we have the power to every Republican who voted against or dodged the supplementary civil rights bill recently introduced into the United States Senate by Hon. Charles Sumner, and also successors to those who shall not show a satisfactory record on the civil rights bill now in the United Statet House of Representatives.

A series of resolutions were also adopted. The first commends the action of Vice President Colfax for aiding and giving his support to the civil rights bill in the Senate. The next declares a difference between civil rights and social rights, and recognizes the fact that the social standing of men can only be determined by personal merit and individual achievement. The third expresses gratitude for the prayers of the friends of freedom in this and other lands. The fourth refuses to support for office all who can not rise above the prejudices of color and race. The fifth recommends a system of common school education such as prevails in New England. The sixth asks that some patronage be extended to the colored Republicans of Kentucky and other States, where none has heretofore been given. The seventh and eighth denies the statement made in a certain paper that forced school equality is one of the dominant ideas of the convention, and animadverts on the practices of amalgamation.

"Liberal" Candidate for the Presidency.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 15.—The announcement that Governor Palmer was no longer a candidate before the Republican State Convention of May 2d created quite a consternation among the followers of Gen. Grant. It has also transpired that Gov. Palmer, on the 13th inst., wrote to Senator Trumbull that he would support the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention if that body selects for candidates statesmen whose political record and private life has been such as can secure the confidence of the country. Some people believe that he (Palmer) is the proper person to nominate for the Liberal Republican candidate for the Presidency at Cincinnati.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

LONDON, April 15.—The metropolitan journals to-day revive the discussion on the Alabama claims question and the presentation of counter cases at Geneva to-day from their various political stand-points. A majority are decided in the expression of the opinion that the Ministry must adhere to the position taken against the submission to arbitration of the indirect claims presented in the American case.

It is stated that the steamer Republic, which sailed from New York on Saturday, is to bring important dispatches from Washington on this subject.

LONDON, April 15.—In the House of Commons to-night Gladstone, in reply to inquiries from Disraeli and others, again assured the members that the note accompanying the British counter case protested against the jurisdiction of the arbitrators at Geneva over the claims for indirect damages. Gladstone promised to lay the documents before the House to-morrow.

LONDON, April 15—The note accompanying the English replication submitted at Geneva today, especially declares that England will not consent to have indirect claims arbitrated. Cushing says the note is worthless, and arbitration must proceed.

A NOTE from a gentleman who was "snowed up" in Maine, states that during the last storm too much snow was blown through the keyhole of the outside door of the house where he was stopping, and that it took two men two days to shovel it out. And that wasn't the hardest storm of the month by any means.

HERE is a taubleau for the Cincinnati Convention: Enter Anna Dickinson, supported on the right by Andy Johnson, and on the left by Horace Greeley, with Joe in front and Bill in the rear; while Horace lines out the hymn:

"This is the way I long have sought,
And mourned because I found it not."

HORACE GREELEY does not go to the Cincinnati Convention a unit for anybody. He is divided among himself, between Greely and Trumbull. He is for Greeley on principle, and for Trumbull on expediency, but he is prepared to sacrifice both principle and expediency and take up H. G. as the only man who can beat Grant in the present emergency.

SAYS the Athens, Tennessee, Post: "Our friends of the agricultural districts report the wheat crop as promising enough. In some few localities it was injured by the inclement weather, but the average stand is good. The peach trees are now in full bloom, and in the absence of any more heavy frosts there will be an abundance of peaches. We believe this is the year for a heavy fruit crop."

DO YOU think there are no black Evangelines in the world? A couple of weeks since a wrinkled and decrepid negro woman, who thirty-six years ago was sold away from her husband in North Carolina—having lately heard vague rumors that he was still alive—found her way back from Savannah to the old place and to himself, and was legally reunited to him in marriage—he being seventy-five and she sixty-six years of age. It is very beautiful to such as can understand it.

A LAYWOMAN in Providence, a milliner by trade, but nevertheless a favorite exhorter at the evening meetings of the elect, thus gave her reasons for belief in the existence of a Supreme Being: "Sisters, I am just as confident that there is a God as I am that there are bonnets in Paris; and that I know for certain, as I yesterday received from there a choice assortment of the most fashionable styles, which I will trim with more taste and sell lower than any milliner in the city!"

THE New York Tribune has become a leading authority south of Mason and Dixon's line. On all questions pertaining to the present administration it is quoted by Southern journals with the confidence due to such an impartial and consistent oracle. We always thought that if the doctor ever went South, his handsome person, polished address, and "liberal" professions would overcome the prejudice existing against him, but it was hardly to be expected that he would eclipse even General Hancock in the affections of the chivalry for President.

"THE PRIVATE MEETING."

Result of the Deliberations over the City Engineership—The Vacancy to be Filled—The Caucus Nominee.

Yesterday afternoon, according to call, the members of Pittsburgh Councils assembled in the Common Council Chamber, City Building, in private session, to consider matters in relation to the City Engineer's Department and to select a candidate to fill the vacancy now existing in that office. There was but little excitement outside, and a very meagre display of "lobbying," as compared with former occasions of a like nature. The doors of the Council Chamber were closed and the meeting commenced at two o'clock, continuing in session for about two hours.

The assemblage was presided over by Dr. McCandless, of the Common Branch, Mr. Hill Burgwin, of Select, acted as Vice President, and Mr. J. W. Riddell Secretary.

Mr. ARTHURS, as soon as this organization had been effected, presented a resolution setting forth the fact that matters in the City Engineer's Department needed regulating, and ordering a re-organization of the Department. After some discussion it was decided to refer the resolution to the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform.

It was then decided to go into a nomination for City Engineer, and Messrs. Gross and Oliver were selected as tellers.

Mr. MORROW offered a resolution pledging all in attendance to stand by the nomination, but it was voted down.

After some confusion, nominations were called for, and a number of gentleman, as appears below, named.

The roll of each branch of Councils was then called, the vote being by ballot.

THE FIRST BALLOT.

The result was as follows:

Charles Davis	26	Hugh Neal	18
A. Dempster	17	Chas. Rechspfarr	7
Sigismund Loew	2	W. G. McGowan	0
W. A. Edeburn	11

There being no choice, a second ballot was ordered, and while the members were preparing, Mr. Oliver offered a resolution to pledge the members of the caucus to the nominee, but no action was taken, and proceeded, with this result:

Davis	39	Edeburn	8
Dempster	31	Neal	7
Loew	3	Reichspfarr	9

On motion the two lowest on the list were now stricken off, and a third ballot was ordered.

Before it was taken Messrs. Burgwin, E. P. Jones and Baum gave notice, that unless a capable man was chosen they could not be bound by the result of the caucus.

THE THIRD BALLOT

was taken amid much excitement and resulted:

Davis	36	Edeburn	7
Dempster	37	Reichspfarr	5

Messrs. Edeburn and Reichspfarr were then taken off the list, and a fourth ballot ordered.

The resolution to stand by the result of the caucus was then carried unanimously,—Messrs. Jones, Burgwin and Baum, saying that they would be satisfied with either candidate.

The excitement became very high while the tickets were being prepared, and a few moments were spent in electioneering previous to the roll call.

THE FOURTH BALLOT

was then taken, and resulted in favor of Mr. Dempter, who received 46 votes to 40 for his opponent, Davis.

A resolution was offered that a special meeting be held Wednesday afternoon next, at two o'clock, for the purpose of electing a City Engineer.

On motion adjourned.

BREVITIES.

"SHIELD'S" will be the name of a new flag station on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, between Edgeworth and Leetsdale.

THE weather yesterday morning might have suggested, to an inquiring mind, the conundrum—if April showers bring May flowers, what will be brought by April snows?

MISS AGGIE WAY, of Edgeworth, a lady of decided artistic abilities, sailed yesterday for Europe, in company with Rev. Scovel and others. Miss Way intends visiting Florence, where she will complete her art studies.

THE business men of Fourth avenue, between Wood and Market streets, are about entering into a private arrangement whereby that portion of the thoroughfare referred to will be swept and cleaned each morning before seven o'clock.

THIS evening, 7½ o'clock, a temperance meeting will be held in the Temperanceville M. E. Church, Rev. R. T. Miller, to organize an Auxiliary Society of the Allegheny County Christian Temperance Alliance. Thomas H. Rabe, Jacob Reese, Robt. C. Totten and Geo. B. Edwards will address the meeting.

MRS. WEISE, who attempted suicide at East Liberty, Friday night last, was still alive last evening, but there is but little hope of her recovery. To prevent her from tearing the bandages from her neck, it is necessary to keep her hands tied. She seems determined to die. Since the stroke of paralysis which she suffered some months since, her mind has been unbalanced.

IT is not only on Sunday that fast driving is indulged in on the Penn avenue Miller pavement. Yesterday afternoon a couple of young men who had been imbibing somewhat too freely, were driving in from Point Breeze, and, notwithstanding the slippery condition of the pavement, determined to test the mettle of their animal. The horse proved, before many minutes, that his speed was a little greater than they had power to direct properly. They discovered they could not check the animal, and both escaped from the vehicle, making some frightful contortions as they alighted, but escaping almost uninjured. The horse was checked in due time, after doing some little damage to the buggy.

SOME idea of the tautology of the legal formula may be gathered from the following specimen, wherein, if a man wishes to give another an orange, instead of saying, "I give you this orange," he must set forth his "act and deed" thus: "I give all and singular my estate and interest, right, title and claim and advantage of and in that orange, with all its rind, skin, juice, pulp and pips, and all rights and advantages therein, with full power to cut, bite, suck or otherwise eat the same orange, or give the same away, with or without its rind, skin, juice, pulp and pips, anything heretofore or hereafter, or in any other deed or deeds, instruments of what kind or nature soever, to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

IT IS RUMORED that the Pennsylvania Company are endeavoring to make arragements for the purchase of the range of squares extending from Eleventh street to Thirty-third street and from Liberty to Penn. This will take about seven hundred lots, which with improvements would be worth not less than $3,500,000. In case the city gives the requisite authority, the company would enter upon Liberty street, and in return agree to widen Penn from Eleventh to the forks of the road to one hundred and fifty feet, laying a wood pavement. The depots, as they would be all workshops &c., would be placed on the new acquisition, and the freight platform so arranged that goods could be delivered conveniently to the Penn street front. The Company, it is said further, will agree to vacate the Duquesne Depot and take up their tracks on Liberty street from the Union Depot to the river. The matter has assumed no definite shape as yet, but the attention of Council will likely be called to it in a short time, if the negotiations now said to be pending do not fail.

GRANT AND OUR COLORED VOTERS.

Mass Meeting Last Night—The Voice of the Colored Voters—True to the Old Flag—Grant Endorsed and Sumner Rebuked—Our State Ticket Accepted—The Colored People not Disposed to Desert their True Friends.

Our colored people are already beginning to evince some enthusiasm in reference to the approaching campaign, and to have commenced preparations to make their records clear in the contest. Their first public demonstration was given last night at a mass meeting, composed of representatives from all the county, held in Avery College, in Allegheny. There was a very large attendance, comprising generally the leaders of the colored people hereabouts and the best element of that class of our population.

After the usual preliminary exercises to the organization, Mr. B. F. Pulpress was called to the chair, and Prof. S. A. Neale chosen Secretary.

The call for the meeting as published was then read, and then, on motion, Messrs. S. A. Neale, Jacob C. Brown and Thomas Gatewood were appointed a Committee on Business and Resolutions. The committee, after a brief absence, made the following report through their chairman, Prof. Neale.

WHEREAS, It is fit and proper that all men who love this country and its salutary forms of government, &c., under which they have grown and become developed into full political equality, should from time to time give expressions of their loyalty and devotion to Liberty, retained by Constitutional guarrantees, and to nurture a true patriotism in their own and their children's hearts. And, Whereas, It is the peculiar duty of the people, so lately franchised, so lately dug from the horrible pit of slavery by the Omnipotent arm of Jehovah through his chosen instruments, Lincoln, Grant and the Republican party, to testify their gratitude to those who invested them with the rights of men, by devoting their best energies to the success of Republican principles throughout the land; and giving their earnest prayers that God will again cause victory to rest on the Republican banner; therefore be it

Resolved, That we pledge ourselves anew to the sacred task of helping onward the objects and just purposes of the Republican party.

Resolved, That we are in full accord with the spirit of the resolution passed at the Orleans National Convention of Colored Men, viz.: that if the Convention of so-called Liberal Republicans, to meet in Cincinnati in May, nominate Sumner, great and honored though he be by colored men in the United States, whose lips can utter and and hearts can feel sentiments of gratitude for his past and present services, it will be the duty of every colored voter to abandon him and stick to Grant.

Resolved, That Major General Hartranft, the Republican nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania, deserves and should receive the willing vote of every Republican in the State. The glowing and well merited tribute paid to him by such representative men of our own race as Prof. William Howard Day, Cassius M. Brown, Esq., and other leading colored men of the State, convinced us that the State Convention made a judicious choice in nominating him for Governor.

Resolved, That the Hon. Ulysses S. Mercur, the friend of the slaves in the time of their desolation, and always the friend and champion of freedom, and the Hon. Harrison Allen, shall also receive our undivided suffrages.

Resolved, That this mass meeting will now proceed to appoint a committee of twenty-one whose duties shall be to organize political clubs throughout the county and also make arrangements for a great county celebration of our day of Freedom, that day of days, which time's remotest age will never blot out, nor banish from the memory of man.

The resolutions as presented were discussed at length in timely addresses by Messrs. Granville Woodson, B. F. Pulpress, Jacob C. Brown, John Turfey, S. A. Neale and Samuel T. Lindsay, after which they were unanimously adopted.

The appointment of the Committee was then postponed until next Monday evening, and on motion the meeting adjourned,—until that time, when the final arrangements will be made for celebrating the "Amendment Day" and for organizing district political clubs throughout the county.

FIGHTING FOR A MILLION

Important Ejectment Suit.

Yesterday morning in the Court of Common Pleas, Judge Collier, an interesting ejectment suit was called up, involving property to a very large amount. The suit was brought by William Little, late U. S. Assessor, against Joon Scott and the Connellsville Railroad Company, to recover certain valuable property in this city. The suit involves the title to a part of the Fifth Avenue Opera House; the ground now occupied by the Connellsville railroad depot; the property at the corner of Liberty and Water streets; a large lot on Penn street, and other valuable property. It is estimated that the whole property is fully worth over a million dollars.

The claims of the plaintiff are based upon the will of his father who died in 1839. The estate was considered at that time of small value; but since then it has immensely increased in value.

The plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Woods & Schoyer, and the defendant by Messrs. Shiras, Barton and Acheson.

The plaintiff offered the will in evidence, and then rested. Mr. Shiras then opened the case for the defense, and offered in evidence the record of the Orphans' Court a partition of the estate in dispute, in which plaintiff appeared as guardian of a minor daughter and as consenting to the arrangement. He also argued that the record in partition was a complete estoppal to plaintiff.

The counsel were engaged in arguing the point as to the admissability of this evidence on certain technical grounds when Court adjourned.

Public Entertainments.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The first appearance of Miss Jane Coombs and her dramatic company at the Pittsburgh, last evening, was marked by the attendance of an audience which filled the house, from the auditorium to the upper gallery. If the company were popular when here before they seem to be doubly so now, if we are to judge from the enthusiasm which greeted their opening performance last night. Not only in numbers was the audience a fine one, but in point of brilliancy and appreciativeness, we have seldom seen it surpassed. While there are other plays in the published repertoire of the week which display Miss Coombs powers to better advantage, perhaps, Boucicault's delightful comedy, "London Assurance," is one calculated to give several of the members of the company more excellent opportunity to display their abilities to advantage in their fortes. But in the role of Lady Gay Spanker, it would be difficult to imagine greater perfection than that displayed by Miss Coombs. In her picturing of the "Steeple Chase" and its results, to the courtly and portly Sir Harcourt, in the second act, Miss Coombs fairly took the audience by storm, and the long continued applause which followed was as genuine as it was almost vociferous. The Dazzle of Frederick Robinson was a splendid piece of acting, and the Sir Harcourt Courtley of Mr. A D. Bradley was a consummate acting out of the supreme self-complacency of which the English gentleman has such an ample share. It is Bradley's best character. We will not attempt to recount the individual merits of the various members of this most excellent company. But we feel constrained to give a passing notice of Mr. E. Coleman's Mark Meddle, which was the occasion of almost unbounded merriment to the audience, and Miss Marie Bates' personation of Grace Harkaway, which was most excellent. This lady has improved vastly since her last appearance here. This evening the play will be "Love's Sacrifice."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—There is fun at the Academy, and our people are not slow to find it out. Those who have a taste for sensational comedy will find it flourishing like a green bay tree, on Liberty street, this week. Johnny Allen, Little Mac and Miss Alice Harrison—names not unknown here—with a strong company support, are serving up choice bits of side-splitting humor, at Manager Beamer's magnificent little theatre. We advise our readers to go and see "Schneider; or, Dot House von der Rhine," and come away after enjoying it, with a better digestion, by half, than they had when they entered the hall. 'Tis better, far, than a dose of physic. Our friend Beamer is an excellent doctor.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—Notwithstanding the superabundance of amusement in the city this week, all the various places seem to have been well patronized last evening. And the old Opera House was not forgotten, by any means. E. D. Davies, the renowned ventriloquist, with his brilliant comedy company, presented a most worthy entertainment. It is indeed most enjoyable throughout, and the more so because of its variety. The performance given by this excellent combination among those which cannot be enjoyed by proxy, and we will not, therefore, attempt to give any exposition of it. We say to all, go, see, hear, and be convinced for yourselves.

ART GALLERY.—Those who have not visited the Art Gallery at Library Hall during the past week will, at their next visit be astonished at the improvement made simply by a re-arrangement of the pictures. Experience has taught the manager just the position, with regard to height, light and all the various surroundings, which each should occupy, and the re-arrangement has been made with reference to those observations, aided by the most excellent judgment which this gentlemanly and discreet functionary has ever displayed in the past. Those who have not yet visited the gallery, should bear in mind that the season will last but a comparatively short time longer.

MASONIC HALL.—The first of the great presentation entertainments of the "Fakir of Ava" was given at Masonic Hall last evening. The performances of the "Fakir" are novel, original and withal wonderful in the extreme. Necromancy seems to have attained its highest perfection as a science—if science it may be called—with him. The performance is in all points eminently satisfactory; particularly so is it to the audience when the valuable presents are distributed in large numbers.

THE THOMAS CONCERTS.—The sale of reserved seats for these ever popular entertainments, two of which are to be given at Library Hall next week, will begin at Kleber's music store, on Wood street, Friday morning next.

Two immense Rodman guns, weighing over twenty-five tons each, are being landed at Mobile to be added to the armament of Fort Morgan. They were manufactured at Watertown, Mass., are fifteen and a half feet in length, four and a half feet in diameter, have a bore of fifteen inches, and will throw a solid round shot weighing 480 pounds. Six guns of the same class were left by the same vessel at Fort Jefferson, Dry Tortugas.

THE LONG GATHERING revolutionary storm that has kept the Government of Spain uneasy and agitated, seems about to break forth in all its fury. The Carlists are reported to be thoroughly organized and ready to precipitate the fight for power with King Amadeus, and for the establishment of a new Government. They are to be strengthened by the simultaneous uprising of the Internationalists and Republicans. The Government forces are calmly awaiting the outbreak, and are being strengthened at every point.

THERE come across the ocean rumors to the effect that the friendly (?) relations existing between France and Germany are again threatened, the trouble this time growing out of dissatisfaction over recent diplomatic negotiations. It is neither probable nor possible that France has any idea of trying a military tilt with the power that so triumphantly vanquished her so short a time ago. None doubt but she will some time endeavor to recover her lost ground and avenge herself on Germany, but the day that she will make the attempt seems far out in the future.

WE ARE informed that the Republicans of Mercer county are circulating a petition calling upon the Hon. John Allison to allow the use of his name as a candidate for Congress in the XXth district, composed of the counties of Clarion, Mercer, Crawford and Venango. We do not know who his competitors will be, in case he concludes to be a candidate, but this we do know, and are free to say so, that no better man can be found in the Commonwealth than John Allison, and our friends in the above district will do themselves honor by nominating and electing him, and thereby will secure an able, fearless and thoroughly reliable representative on the floors of Congress. In saying this, we do not disparage the claims or character of any other gentleman who may be named in opposition to him.

NOW THAT THINGS have settled down to the old basis in the oil regions, and the terror inspired among the producers by the mysterious operations and undeveloped plans of the South Improvement Company, has been dissipated, we can confidently expect a lively reaction of the trade in the petroleum districts. The markets up there are open to all comers as purchasers, and a general good feeling prevails between refiners and producers. The stock held on the 1st instant, as shown by the respective reports of the Titusville papers, was nearly if not over a million of barrels, which will soon be disposed of as the demand is great, inasmuch as the "forty days abstinence" from selling by the producers, caused a shortness all round. We are sincerely glad that peace again reigns supreme, and hope that in the future a better understanding will prevail among all parties who have in charge this great interest and element of wealth.

THE CAMPAIGN now fairly opened in this State promises to prove an unusually interesting and exciting one, and it should be the first object of all citizens to become thoroughly posted on the political situation as it now exists, and to watch for new developments that may be made as the canvass progresses. The best way to acquire such knowledge is to read a good daily or weekly newspaper. In these days of general enlightenment it is criminal for any citizen to remain ignorant on the political issues of the time that stir up and excite the whole nation. The well conducted newspaper is the best possible education of the day on not only political affairs but also on all the current events of the world. We propose making the Daily and Weekly GAZETTES more readable and attractive during the present year than they ever were, and ask our friends to use their best exertions to secure for either increased circulations in their neighborhoods.

THE Mail does not believe the Republicans of Beaver are very anxious to return Mr. Rutan to Harrisburg, but intimates that "Barkis is willin'." However that might be, we imagine that our friends and neighbors down there will endeavor to find a candidate who can carry the district by a little larger majority than thirteen voters or thereabouts. If our information is near correct, we would say that it appears like madness to attempt to press a candidate who has not the ghost of a chance of being elected. It is evidently in order, to have a new deal in Beaver; but as the support of the "largest" has been promised to Mr. Rutan, possibly he might win if he were to try again. Poor Sherlock, however, can tell him beforehand how he feels. Butler county can be relied on for 300 majority against him, and his friends know whether that can be overcome. We imagine that "cut and dried" resolution confirming the newly-fledged Auditor General for three years, has done the business for the late Speaker. We shall see; in the meantime, we say halt, about face.

IT is stated that efforts are in progress looking towards the healing of the differences in the Republican party in the State. There are some encouraging indications of success, although the matter is one involving so many considerations that the endeavors in the end may prove abortive. The movement, however, comes from the friends of the administration. They will make some concessions, but whether they will go far enough to meet the approval of the other side we must wait for the course of events to show.—Troy N. Y. Times.

Reconciliation in the ranks of any divided party is always a good thing in its way, and is an end devoutly to be wished for, since strife and contention inside the pale a political party is in nowise strengthening or beneficial. But what use is it to attempt to bring such violently ambitious men as Schurz, Greeley, Sumner and Trumbull to anything like decent terms, since they imagine in their egotistical estimate of themselves that they collectively and individually, are the true and only exponents of the people, that their will and preferences should prevail in national politics, that their ambitions should be promptly gratified, that their enmities and animosities should find an echo of concurrence in the great public heart? Each and every one of this brilliant quartette, has done more or less good work in the cause of the principles of true republicanism, and there are few who will not award them due credit for their past labors, but when they set themselves up as political dictators and demagogues of the first water, and endeavor to force themselves as the leaders of a new departure movement upon intelligent and consistent voters, they make a grand mistake and will not be followed, save by a ragged regiment of soured and disappointed men of high and low ambitions. The very best method to effect a reconciliation in the present political situation, is for the people to administer an emphatic rebuke at the ballot box to the dissenters who in their vanity have been led to believe that they have it in their power to rule the country according to their own fashion. Any other way of bringing about a reconciliation would prove decidedly unpalatable to the thinking masses.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

We have received the third annual report of Prof. George F. Luckey, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Pittsburgh, which makes an exceedingly gratifying exhibit of the condition of these great educational institutes. The report has been prepared with that industry and care which conspicuously mark all of the official acts of the author, who is not only zealous in the discharge of his duties, but enthusiastic in advancing the cause of popular education. From the statistics exhibited we find that during the past decade of years the public schools have grown into much favor, and are attended generally by the children of all classes of society, affording the poor man's son equal facilities for obtaining knowledge with the offspring of the millionaire. The report states that while, during the last decade of years, our population has increased from 49,217 to 86,254, or seventy-five per cent., the average number in attendance at the public schools has increased from 4,000 to 7,771, or ninety-three per cent. The attendance at the public schools for the year 1867, in the districts that now constitute the city, was 6,263. The attendance for the year just closed was 7,771, or an increase of nearly twenty-four per cent.; thus showing that the increase in attendance at the schools has more than kept pace with our rapidly increasing population, and that the superior advantages which these schools afford in the matter of accommodations and thorough teaching is appreciated by our people.

The school property of the city now consists of thirty-four school buildings, valued (including the grounds), in round numbers, at one million three hundred thousand dollars; sixteen of these have been built during the last four years, at a cost of over nine hundred thousand dollars, and twelve of these sixteen are in the territory which was annexed to the city in 1868.

The Mute school which was opened in September, 1869, has, thus far, justified to the fullest extent the wisdom and liberality through which it was established.

To our city belongs the honor of opening the first public day school of this country for the instruction of Deaf and Dumb children. There are now similar schools in Boston, Chicago and Cleveland, while efforts in the same direction are being made in a number of other cities.

During the past year the enrollment has been thirty-six and the average attendance twenty-eight. The progress of the pupils bears ample testimony to the zeal and fidelity of the teachers. The system of instruction is that of De L'Epee and Sicard, as improved by Gallaudet and his successors. It is the same as that pursued in the Pennsylvania Institute at Philadelphia, and in all the principal institutions in the country.

The school is free to Deaf Mute children resident in the city. Those from other districts are admitted upon the payment of twenty-five dollars per year.

The report contains very interesting historical facts on the rise and progress of the High School, an exhibit of the school finances and concludes with a beautiful tribute to the memory of the late lamented Prof. Philotus Dean. Altogether it is a pleasing and encouraging exhibit of all that is interesting pertaining to our glorious public school system.

UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY.

Our Congressman, General Negley, saw fit to introduce, a few days ago, a resolution in Congress, asking for the appointment of a committee to examine into the affairs of the Union Pacific Railway, and ascertain if there is any good reason why the said company failed to pay the interest regularly, on the government bonds loaned and issued for the purpose of assisting in the construction of that road.

The resolution and proposed investigation were eminently proper, and within the powers and duties of Congress, as it is well known that the interest account on these bonds is fast running up to enormous figures, and has, so far as paid, been paid mostly by the United States, when the road should have met the interest regularly, as it fell due. The account stands as follows; and of course is an obligation against the government, which it will have to meet unless the road can be made to pay it:

Amount of bonds issued to the U. P. R. R.	$27,236,512.00
Interest accrued and not yet paid	408,547.68
Interest paid by the United States	6,164,657.13
Interest repaid by transportation of mails	2,044,812.22
Balance of interest paid by, and due the United States	4,119,844.91

This last amount was what the resolution of General Negley was intended to collect, or at least to inquire, if there was any good reason why the road continued a delinquent.

Nor was this all. The item of accrued and unpaid interest, amounting as will be seen to nearly another half million, establishes the fact that the road is not attempting to pay any of its accruing obligations, but is leaning wholly upon the Government for their liquidation, promising, and, perhaps, hoping to repay the amounts in transportation of troops, mails and other matter, at some future time. What guarantee has the Government that this will be done? None whatever; in the meantime the sum is largely increasing and it is high time that the National Treasury should be protected in some way.

While the Union Pacific Company is delinquent, there are other roads in a similar condition. The investigation into the affairs of one, may result in regulating the rest.

The total amount in bonds issued to all the Pacific roads is	$64,623,512.00
In't accrued and not paid	969,352.68
In't paid by the U. S.	14,631,870.18
In't repaid by transportation of mails, &c.	3,521,087.97
Balance in't due U. S.	11,110,782.21

This being the state of the case, we ask, in all candor, is it not high time that Congress should give this subject some consideration, and attempt at least, to inquire into the condition of these roads. Some such a resolution of inquiry, as that proposed by General Negley, should be adopted at once and the work of investigation be begun. We care not for the motive which prompted the gentleman to offer the resolution calling for a committee. We scorn and detest such objections as those offered, and trust to the good results of the committees' work. It is simply ridiculous to charge that General Negley was working in the interest of Wall street brokers, or that he was moved so to act through the loss of a free pass, and yet such foolish statements have been made, hoping thereby to defeat the passage of the resolution. It makes no possible difference what induced the movement. The only question should be, is it right, ought the United States to institute an inquiry which may result in saving to its treasury millions of dollars. We would much sooner think that the opposition to such a fair proposition came from interested if not venal motives. This investigation, if pushed, may show up the condition of these Pacific roads, and illustrate their impracticability, which would disturb the market value of their bonds. Therefore, we can see why interested persons might oppose the investigation, but we confess that we are at a loss to find any similar motive, urging the inquiry into the condition of these roads, and as to the likelihood of their paying the interest and principal of the bonds borrowed from the government. We hope General Negley will insist upon the adoption of his resolution, and not be checked by the personal and malignant attacks made upon him, and his motives. If the roads are solvent, they ought to ask for this investigation; if insolvent the country ought to know it, but the opposition will continue to grow in bitterness.

THE RESOURCES OF THE STATE.

We have frequently called attention to the bad policy pursued by our coal dealers in running immense fleets of coal—the greatest resource of the state—to southern and western markets, and selling the same, at times, without profit, and seldom at a price to justify the hazard of the business. It reminds us of a scene we witnessed at Baltimore a few years ago. An oysterman, whom we met on the docks, was looking very sad and disconsolate, and in reply to our inquiry as to the condition of the market, said, that oysters "wan't worth nothin." He had 400 bushels of prime bivalves in his scow, the result of the labor, down in the stormy bay for four days and nights, of himself and four hands, and the highest bid he could get for the lot was twenty dollars or five cents a bushel. His last trip netted him, after paying all expenses, over one hundred dollars, and we did not much wonder at his feeling blue over his present prospect. The coal business is managed in about the same way. At each rise in the river our coal men work hard night and day to get their coal to market, all arriving at about the same time, find a glutted market and coal like the oysters, "not worth nuthin." The shrewd buyers stand around and jingle their fancy watch-chains and display their diamond rings, conscious of the fact that they will be able to purchase the entire "run of coal" at their own price, as the coal men will be too anxious to sell, in order to get back home and make another "run" before the river falls. How foolish this all appears. If coal must be taken to southern ports for a market, why, in the name of reason, do the Pittsburgh dealers not provide themselves with yards for storing it, when reasonable rates cannot be had? Why place themselves at the mercy of these Southern sharks, who have always shown themselves willing to take advantage of the necessities of the dealer? Or better yet, why do not our coal dealers sell their coal at fair, remunerative rates at Pittsburgh, to whomsoever shall buy, and if Cincinnati and Louisville want the Pittsburgh article, let them do as we have to do with their pork, go to headquarters and buy it. The risk of transportation will then be placed where it ought to be, on the purchaser, and he can take the coal to Texas or elsewhere, if he wishes to.

We are depleting our State of its resources without a corresponding benefit to ourselves. The same is true of the oil product, for want of proper organization. Pennsylvania is furnishing the world with light, without reaping a fair profit; its lumber districts are fast becoming exhausted, whilst no effort is being made to keep up the supply of timber. There appears to be no wise policy adopted for the management of these vast material resources which the Almighty has bestowed upon our State. There is no reason why a tree should not be planted, for every one cut down, and in this way only will our immense pine districts be made inexhaustible. A recent writer says:

> The annual products drawn by the people of the United States from the forests exceed one thousand million of dollars, or eight times the interest on the national debt! This being the case, the preservation of our forests, and the right method of cutting timber, is a matter of general interest and of national importance.
> To save our timber, we must not only cut no more than is necessary, but cut it in a proper and economical manner. We must stop the merciless waste and primitive method of chopping with axes, and use saws scientifically. The forests of Europe are protected by law, and the removal of their timber is carefully and economically performed.
> Probably not less than thirty millions of the people of America are warmed by wood fuel, consuming more than one hundred million cords per annum, as any one knowing the prodigal use in our newer timber districts will certify. If mills, railroads and steamboats consume one-third as much, reckoning the cost at $3 per cord, we have four hundred million dollars annually for fuel alone. An equal consumption of timber for fencing, and a like amount of wooden buildings of all kinds, give the enormous aggregate of one thousand two hundred millions of dollars annually, produced by our forests for consumption.
> When we consider the fencing and farm buildings required by our more than four million farms, if reckoned at one hundred and fifty dollars, annually, to each farm, making six hundred millions of dollars, and when all the uses of wood are considered, few men who have traveled widely and observed and estimated closely, will deny that more than one thousand million dollars in products is derived from our forests annually—five times the value of our largest cotton crop, ten times the production of our pig-iron, twelve times the production of gold and silver, and four times our wheat crop. Indeed, few single interests exceed in value the enormous production of our forests.
> Now let us consider the time and labor saved by sawing, instead of chopping. To cut one hundred million cords of wood with the axe requires as many days' labor, and as many dollars, if the use of hand cross-cut saws be substituted, and only one half the labor be saved, the fifty millions now thrown away are gained, besides the immense amount of fuel, making in the two items an annual saving of an amount equal to the interest of the national debt.

There is not proper attention given to such subjects, but the time will come when the United States, like England, will feel the necessity of protection for our national resources.

THE recent extraordinary scene in the National House of Representatives, which grew out of the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Negley to make the Union Pacific Road pay its interest regularly, and to which Mr. Brooks objected, is fresh in the remembrance of our readers. General Negley charged Mr. Brooks with owning stock in the road, and Mr. Brooks retorted that he opposed it because it was offered by a Wall street instrument.

The real secret of the introduction of the resolution has at last leaked out, and shows that it was a very small acorn from which the great oak grew. When Colonel Scott retired from the charge of the road, the Vanderbilt party took possession, and one of the first acts of the new-comers was to annul all outstanding free passes over the road, evidently without counting the cost of such a proceeding. Mr. Scott did not like this,—of course not on account of the value of the pass, but because it was an affront to his pride. He consequently improved the first opportunity to request his friend, Mr. Negley, to introduce the resolution to compel the road to pay its interest regularly, knowing that the road could not do it, and hoping that as the Congressional passes were also annulled, the members would vote for it without question. Mr. Scott was foiled in his little plan for revenge, but, as the news got noised about on Wall street beforehand that a resolution was offered seriously affecting the prospects of the road, he had the satisfaction of seeing the stock go down for a day or two. Mr. Scott's wounded pride should have a plaster in the shape of a pass forthwith. —Chicago Tribune.

A better reason than any yet given for voting down General Negley's proposition will have to be invented. The above is very thin, in fact perfectly transparent.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says: On Sunday afternoon a number of boys who had collected near Droege's foundry, on the Licking River, observing a man coming down stream in a skiff, thought it would be fine sport to stone him, and accordingly they let fly a number of missiles at him. The stranger stood the pelting for a few minutes, but finally becoming enraged, drew a pistol and fired into the crowd of mischievous youngsters, the ball from the weapon striking one of them, named George Huey, aged about seventeen years, on the upper lip and lodging in his jaw. Dr. Kearns was called upon to render surgical aid in the case, but he had not extracted the ball up to yesterday evening.

WM. WILSON, who lives twelve miles southeast of Decatur, Illinois, has several gas wells on his farm. Over one of them a pipe has been placed to a height of twenty-five feet, and the gas issuing from the top has been ignited. It affords a beacon-light for the surrounding prairie for miles in every direction.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

IN THE GARDEN.

As soon as the frost is out of the ground the rough portion of the covering of the asparagus beds can be removed, and the other carefully forked in. Most of the covering of the strawberry-bed can be also removed, and the rest let remain as a mulch. Flower-borders, which are usually well covered with manure in the fall, can be treated in the same way, and the borders partially dressed. About mid April the rest can be tenderly forked-in, especially where there are any bulbs remaining in the soil or tender roots, and the beds put in the best order.

Raspberry canes, laid down through the winter can be relieved of their covering as soon now as the frost is out of the ground, and should be staked up at once. In staking they should be tied loosely to give the young branches room to grow and expand. Rose bushes not yet thinned out and the dead wood removed should be attended to at once. Rampant growers require sharp pruning. All stalks partially killed should be cut out to the ground. The best roses are produced from young or well pruned bushes.

Shrubbery generally should be well thinned out. Some of the spiræ grow tall and spindling and fall over on every side, unless kept down. To have the finest snowballs there should be frequent planting of young wood, as it is this that produces the largest flowers.

The first crop of peas—Extra Early—should be sown as soon as the ground is fit, and followed by others according to the directions given by us a week or two ago. The onion crop is among the first to get in. The value of this vegetable is greatly underrated. None is more nutritious and wholesome, and it should be in every household.

Rhubarb roots should be transplanted as soon as possible. So with horse-radish. This should be cut in pieces, each with a small particle of the crown adhering, and set two inches under the surface in a rich, moist spot. A bed once established will keep itself going.

Grafting can now be proceeded with. Be careful in tying up entirely to exclude the water, otherwise your grafting will be fruitless.

Let your out-door grape-vines lie on the ground until they have begun to sprout, if you desire low-branching vine and new wood for renewing. —Germantown Telegraph.

SPRING PRUNING.

[Discussion before the Alton Horticultural Society.]

Dr. Hull, from the Committee on Orchards—Pruning is at this time the most important operation, and in doing this, care should be taken to avoid a practice that was very general, viz: where two limbs join, the union is somewhat imperfect, and if one be cut away close to the bark of the other, the one remaining is very liable to break off at that point. To prevent this, let the stub be long, so that no part of the limb left shall be injured by the cutting. This applies to peaches more particularly. Prune early, thereby wasting none of the energies of the tree. Blooms exhaust: early pruning saves the most excessive blooming. After allowing time for the cut surfaces to become dry, paint them with any common linseed oil paint. Rot existed in orchards last summer; the germs are in our orchards now. It may be found on the bark and on the gum. He would recommend that the trunks of the trees be washed with strong potash water, and the tree be dusted with lime. Prune close; reduce to what is probably needed for a crop. Too strong a wood growth will cause the newly-set fruit to drop; hence, care is needed to so prune that this may not occur.

Seewart—Would you paint all the limbs? Those whose location is such as not to retain water would seem not to need it.

Hull—Paint all. The action of the air dries the limb and thus admits moisture.

Pearson—From Committee on Ornamental Planting: Has trimmed soft maples at all seasons of the year, except when in leaf, and they always bleed.

Hull—Will not bleed if pruned when in leaf. All desiduous trees must be planted early. The tulip and the chestnut should have the first attention. These varieties are difficult to manage. Cut them to the earth and cover the stump with a little earth, and the shoot that grows will soon make a fine tree.

Huggins—Never prune early, but after the leaves are well grown, or early in the fall.

Pearson—Pruned last fall and the trees have bled through the winter and are bleeding now. Does not like to prune when in leaf.

Long—Has had no trouble with maples; prunes late in the summer.

Hull—There is a time when the foliage has performed its functions. At that time, if it were known, it would be the best for pruning. Would the chairman recommend the planting of this tree?

Pearson—After some hesitation, said he did not know of any trees that could take its place. It is not first class, but as they are cheap and quick growers, they should be planted.

Hollister—Why prune our shade trees at all? He had succeeded without pruning better than his neighbors who pruned.—Alton Telegraph.

SHOEING HORSES.

The Cleveland Herald says: From our own experience we are impressed with a belief that the usefulness of horses is greatly impaired by the art of shoeing. Not but that shoeing, or some protection must be given the foot when the animal is compelled to draw loads or travel rapidly over frozen hubs or stone pavements, but that the ignorance and the neglect of the owner is almost on a par with that of the mechanic or crude laborer, who performs the work of forming and fitting the iron shoe to the horse's foot. We do not like to say it, but necessity at times compels us to tell the truth, and so we say, that in the city as well as the country, not one man in a hundred who keeps horses, ever has studied or examined a work, exhibiting the form and structure of a horse's foot, nor has one horse-shoeing blacksmith in a thousand, ever looked into the matter.

The owner of the horse generally sends his man or boy with the horse to the shop to be shod, and the blacksmith pares, cuts, and fits to the foot a shoe of his own fancy, or as he, with experience gained by laboring in another shop of six months as helper, has had taught him.

Not a thought or inkling of knowledge is ever given to the parts of the foot, which nature designed to protect and render permanent. Not one in a thousand ever dreams that the frog is a natural spongy cushion, a medium of elasticity to weaken shocks, and like the pad under the foot of the dog or cat is a preventative of slipping. Not one in a hundred ever dreams that if the sole is pared to a sixteenth of an inch in thickness of outer cuticle, it offers the most sensitive position possible to create lameness by bruises from the stepping on a small stone or sharp hub. We have handled a great many horses, have bought those termed "lameness incurable," but without the jockey or farrier knowing why, yet by going ourself, and standing by, and directing the shoeing, we have, in from three to five months rendered the lameness imperceptible. But only once sending the horse to the shop by a man or boy, without decisive instructions to the smith, and lameness is again the result. The whole arising from the cutting away of frog, sole, and bars.

REMEDY FOR WOUNDS.

The Country Gentleman gives the following remedy for painful wounds: Take a pan or shovel, with burning coals, and sprinkle upon them common brown sugar, and hold the wounded part in the smoke. In a few minutes the pain will be allayed and recovery proceeds rapidly. In my own case a rusty nail had made a bad wound in the bottom of my foot. The pain and nervous irritation was severe. This was all removed by holding it in the smoke for fifteen minutes, and I was able to resume my reading in comfort. We have often recommended it to others with like results. Last week one of my men had a finger nail torn out by a pair of ice tongs. It became very painful, as was to have been expected. Held in sugar smoke for twenty minutes, the pain ceased, and it promised speedy recovery.

THE FRUIT PROSPECT.

According to all past experience, there should be a good crop of fruit the coming season, unless the extraordinary severity of a portion of the winter destroyed the fruit trees and plants. This is not likely to be the case, nor have we had any intimation of the kind. The winter has been a protracted and unusually inclement one, extending its severities up to beyond the equinox. The spring season therefore will be a late one, and fruit blossoms liable to be injured by spring frosts are so little developed as yet, that there is slight prospect of damage to them from that cause. Several months since the peach growers uttered their usual note of complaint, but without attracting any other than unbelieving comment. We think it safe to predict an abundance of fruit for the season of 1872.

THE Gardener's Monthly says: Losses by fire have been rather numerous this winter. Wilson's "Cottage Garden," at Xenia, Ohio, is one of the latest to go—dwelling house and greenhouses. We have no doubt many of these accidents occur through not heeding the lessons taught in the Gardener's Monthly, that heat as well as flame burns. No wood, especially enclosed wood, should be in a hot place. We have seen wood in greenhouses fire up when fifty feet from flame.

THE Ways and Means Committee has at last split in two upon the tariff question, as was long ago predicted would be the case. Speaker Blaine's action in making up the Committee with a majority holding hostile views to those of the Chairman has had its inevitable effect. The Committee is hopelessly divided into two factions, and Dawes is virtually deposed, and the actual chairmanship given to Burchard. The division took place at a long and stormy session, held last evening, when a number of questions, which were test-issues between Protection and Revenue Reform, and which had been deferred until the last moment, came to be voted upon preparatory to completing the tariff bill, for reporting to the House. On every one of these votes the Committee stood 5 to 4, the Protectionists being Dawes, Kelley, Maynard and Roberts, and the Reformers, Burchard, Finkelnburg, Kerr, Brooks and Beck. Finally, Mr. Dawes decided that the bill had got into such a shape that he would not report it to the House. He said that he could not put himself in the attitude of indorsing it, without being unfaithful to the interests of his district and State, and to the cherished convictions of his whole life.

The Erie Canal.

The New York Evening Post says: A memorial has been addressed to the Legislature of this State, asking that the Erie canal may be brought to a uniform depth of seven feet. The estimated cost of the work is four hundred thousand dollars. Certainly not a large amount compared with the importance of the work. One of the chief difficulties encountered by inventors seeking to introduce steam on the canals is found in the uncertain and varying depth of the water, and a uniform depth seems absolutely necessary before any great improvement can be accomplished. The memorial is worthy of attention in connection with the report of the commissioners under the act of 1870. Perhaps a uniform depth might be given to the canal without so large an expenditure.

Civil Service Reform.

A Washington despatch to the Boston Journal says: "George William Curtis and his associate commissioners have nearly completed their final report on the civil service, and it will be submitted to the President before the close of the present week. It is hardly probable that all of the proposed reforms can be carried into effect at once, especially after the strong opposition raised by the manner in which some of the competitive examinations here have been conducted; but the President has not in any way diminished his interest in a thorough reform of our civil service."

HEART DISEASE.
A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER.

I came to Dr. Keyser early in December last with a broken constitution and general impaired health. I had pains about my heart and tightness across the chest, and my suffering was truly great, and I found my health fast wearing away. I had every appearance and every feeling of disease of the heart. Every one who saw me could easily tell how sick I was by my sallow look and emaciated form. I could not perform the slightest labor without the greatest exertion, which always produced extreme physical prostration and palpitation and pain about the heart. I have now taken medicine from Dr. Keyser for nearly four months, and I feel as vigorous as ever in my life—in fact, I feel my health better than before I commenced treatment.

I have given permission to Dr. Keyser to publish these facts with reference to my cure in the hope that other sufferers may be benefitted by his treatment.

PHILIP ZIMMERMAN,

DISEASED DIGESTION.

If chronic indigestion affected the stomach only it might be more easily borne; but it gives rise, inevitably, to many other diseases affecting the liver, the nerves, the bowels and the brain. Biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, headache and terrible mental disturbances are among its usual accompaniments. In fact, every organ, every fibre of the frame sympathizes with the diseased and debilitated stomach. What is needed in such a case? Clearly an alterative and invigorant; and among medicines of that class Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is, beyond all comparison or estimate, the best. Mere purgatives only deprive the system of the little strength that disease has left it. Salivants have the same effect. The whole internal organism has gone wrong, and can only be put right and kept right by a medicine in which the tonic and stimulating elements predominate, but are qualified and modified by anti-bilious aperients and blood-purifying components. Now, the truth is (and the medical faculty as well as the public know the fact), that Hostetter's Bitters contain every ingredient requisite for the cure of dyspepsia and all the ailments of body and mind which it involves. This has been proved in so many thousands of instances that it seems almost idle to repeat the statement.

The great tonic rallies exhausted nature, from whatever cause enfeebled, and permanently recruits the vigor of the nerves, the muscles and the brain. Its effect upon the brain is to give strength to the will and precision to the judgment, and to banish despondency and that infirmity of purpose which generally accompanies bodily weakness.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 15, 1872.

The Union Pacific Railroad has changed hands several times; first Dr. Durant, the great operator, by the introduction of a system known as Credit Mobelier—which in plain English means take nothing out of your reach and assume no responsibility—laid the rails and made the connections a mile a day, receiving from the Government $16,000 to $18,000 per mile for such service besides the land grant of 12,800 acres to the mile. The Government subsidy was originally granted to take precedent of all other liens, but by some hocus pocus arrangement with our members of Congress, a subsequent amendment was attached by which this lien should become a second mortgage, and the company was authorized to issue prior bonds to an amount equal to the Government loans as a first mortgage on the entire line. The original act provided that the charge for Government transportation should be credited to it in liquidation of its bonds, and in addition, after the road shall be completed 5 per cent. of the net earnings should also be applied to the same purpose. Subsequently Mr. Oakes Ames, a very worthy gentleman, assumed the control, vice Durant. Under his management claims were made that the payment of interest on these bonds should be postponed until the maturity of the bonds twenty odd years hence if not reduced by increased Government transportation. Following Mr. Ames' retiracy came the great railroad king, Tom Scott, who raised the price of the shares from ten cents on the dollars to 40. He has been succeeded by Mr. Horace F. Clark, well-known in railroad circles, son-in-law of Commodore Vanderbilt, who has found it necessary to announce to the public that he has no connection whatever with the enterprise. The whole history of the road has been of a stock-jobbing character, and it probably could not be sustained on the Stock Exchange for a moment if it was not well assured that our venal members of Congress did not intend, against the earnest protest of Secretary Boutwell, to allow the Government indebtedness to accumulate to to one hundred millions of dollars, at which time the Government would be obliged to take the road and retire the first mortgages or lose the entire amount of subsidy with its accumulative interest. A member from Pennsylvania has introduced a resolution in the House, with a view to resisting their claims, and any member of Congress who attempts to defeat an investigation and prevent this disgraceful result should have his name posted among the criminals whom New York City has been for the past years so successful in exposing and bringing to justice. It is a matter of fact that the fiscal agents of this road, who have been considered respectable men, have failed to give the press the February earnings, for they know that the earnings are so far below the expenses that it would disturb the little Wall street game, as well as excite the fears of the public, which would compel Congress to take immediate action in the matter.—Aimes' Financial Record.

NEW YORK, April 15, 1872.

The gold market was firmer to-day and advanced on a rise in the Exchange and fear of complications between France and Germany, closing firm at 110⅜@110½. Loans were made at from 3 to 7 per cent. for carrying. Clearances $24,000,000. The Government bond market was strong to-day, with a sharp rise in prices; the supply of bonds is very slight; no round lots could be bought without materially advancing prices. Advance to-day was from ¼ to ¾ per cent. Stocks opened slightly lower than on Saturday, but during the afternoon were strong, and advanced from ½ to 1½ per cent. Northwestern common, Union Pacific, Lake Shore, Western Union, Rock Island and C., C. & I. C. continue to attract most attention. Toward the close Hannibal and St. Joseph was very active at 40¼. The market closed steady, with prices slightly off from the highest figures of the day. Money loaned at from 7 gold to 1-32 and interest, and closed steady at 7 per cent. Some of the banks report an influx of currency. Southern bonds closed dull and steady. New South Carolina were about 1 per cent. higher than Saturday.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY April 15, 1872.

ASHES—Common soda ash 6½; refined, 7; Nitrate, 5; Pots, 10; Pearls, 10.

APPLES—Sales at $4@5 per bbl, for common to prime; and $5,25@5,50 for choice. Trade is still reported slow.

APPLE BUTTER—Common to fair 65 to 70 per gallon; prime to choice, 75@80.

BUTTER—There is a fair demand for the better grades, but common and inferior is dull; sales of prime to choice at 28@30cts.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and dull, and stocks although not large, are considerably in excess of the demand; we continue to quote at 5½@8½ 10cts ₩ lb, according to quality.

CHEESE—Continues quiet and unchanged. Prime (old) Goshen of which the supply is very light, is still quoted at 20cts; and new at 16@18 as to quality.

CANNED GOODS—Steady but unchanged; Peaches (3 lb. cans) $6@7 per case; Tomatoes $4,50@5; Corn $5@6.50, according to brand.

CRANBERRIES—Quoted at $12@14 for common to fair; and $16@17 for prime.

CARBON OIL—Is dull but prices are nominally unchanged; 18½ to 19 by the car load and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,25 ₩ case.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 5@5½; Clear sides 6¼@7; hams 8@9. Country lard 8@8½.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches, 9@10 for halves; 7 to 8 for mixed; 5 to 6 for quarters and 15 to 20 for peeled, according to quality. Apples in steady demand with sales at 8 to 9 for common to prime and 9½ for choice. Blackberries, 14 to 16; pitted cherries, 28 to 30; unpitted, 6 to 8.

EGGS—The weather having turned cold, may stiffen the market again, but as yet there is no quotable change in prices, 18@20cts.

FLOUR—Is steady, with a continued good local trade, but their is no change to make in quotations; spring wheat $7,40@7,75 for common to choice; and red winter wheat, $8,00@8,50. We notice that the New York market was dull and lower, on Saturday, and the feeling is gaining ground, that prices are not likely to go any higher, though at the same time, no decline is likely within the next thirty days; all depends on the coming crop, and it is too early yet to determine how it is likely to turn out. Rye flour unchanged at $5,50.

GRAIN—The market for all kinds of grain continues quiet and there are but few new characteristics worthy of notice. Wheat is scarce and in steady demand but prices are unchanged; $1,68 to $1,72 for fair to prime red and 3 to 5 cts more for white according to quality. Oats quiet and unchanged; 48 to 50 cts by the car load for mixed to prime white; holders generally are now asking 50 for white and refuse to accept anything less, and, they claim, that even at this quotation, the margin is small. Shelled corn, as noted in our last report, there is an increased demand but no improvement as yet in prices; 58 to 60 cts for mixed to prime yellow. Ear corn is quiet and the inquiry is mainly for small lots. Rye is scarce and dealers are taking all that offers at $1.00. Barley—the season is almost over and there is scarcely enough doing in this market to establish quotations.

CATTLE.

In addition to the 36 cars above reported, there were three cars brought over from East Liberty, and fully one car driven in from the adjoining country, making 40 cars in all; or, calculating 18 to the car, 720 head; the average quality of the offerings was rather better than for some weeks past, consisting mostly of what might be classified good to prime butcher cattle. However, notwithstanding the supply was a full average, trade was very generally reported more active than it has been for several weeks; this is evident from the fact that the pens were almost clear by eleven o'clock, which is something unusual. Why the market was better last Monday, we can scarcely say, but such was the fact; at least the drovers nearly all so reported, and they are not in the habit of making the market any better than it really was. Prices, as compared with last week, ruled a shade higher, especially for the better grades, though it should be borne in mind that the average quality was better, and taking this into consideration, there was but little change.

The best butcher cattle sold at 7@7½cts, and there was a good many sold at these prices; mediums to good brought 6¼@6¾, and common to fair 5¼@6. There was a pretty full attendance of butchers to-day and they all bought pretty freely; this is evident from the fact that while they were about the only buyers, and the supply was fully up to the usual average, there were but very few if any left over unsold. The offerings of stock cattle were light, and so was the demand; prices, however, are without change, 4¼@5cts, according to quality. Fresh cows range all the way from $30@70; bulls, hogs and then cows, sold at all kinds of prices, from 3½@5½cts.

Peter Hartman sold 1 car good to prime butcher steers (from Chicago) at $6,35@6,37.

L. Rothschilds, 1 car good butcher stock (from Chicago) at 5½@7c.

Jacob Schamberg sold one car of butcher cattle at 5½@7c.

Jacob Lobman sold 28 head from Chicago (same as above) at 6@7c.

M. Varner sold 45 head of fat cattle at 6@7¾; 23 head of stockers at 4¼@4¾c.

Thos. J. North sold 2 steers at 5¾c, and three fresh cows at $40 each.

Sadler, Havens & Co., sold 17 head Indiana steers for Bailey at 6¼@6¾c, 12 head of mixed Ohio stock at 4@7¼c; bought one load of prime steers at 6½c.

Smith & Moonshine sold one load of good to prime butchers at $6,10 to $6,75.

J. W. Unger sold 5 fresh cows at $30 to $55.

M. Kraus sold two loads of Ohio and Chicago stock at 6½@7¼c.

John Beeler, of Butler county, sold two bulls at $29c, and two good oxen at 6c per lb.

S. Marks & Bro., sold 68 butcher cattle at 6@7½c.

Orr & Williams sold one car fair to good Chicago steck at 5¾@6¼c.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 35 good to prime butcher cattle at 5¾@6¾c, two loads Ohio stock, on commission, at 4@7c.

Carr & McAllister wholesaled 15 head good 1,400 lb steers at 6½c; retailed 26 head of mixed stock at 5¼@7¼c.

Louis Schamberg sold 28 head butcher cattle at 4¾c to $6,62.

Sam. Lowenstein sold 20 at 6⅝c to $7.10.

Sol. Traurman sold 42 head of butcher cattle (from Ohio and Chicago) at 6⅝@7¼c.

Keefer and Beyer sold two loads from Chicago and one load from Ohio at 6@7¼c.

Greenwald & Kahn sold 75 head butcher cattle at 6@7c.

Jacob Needy sold three loads mixed stock at 6½@7¼c.

Holmes & Hunter sold 26 head of western stock at $6,30@6,90.

SHEEP.

The supply was very small in point of numbers, and common in quality; the whole number on sale did not exceed one hundred head, which would not begin to supply the demand is the butchers all depended on this market; however, many of them, for some weeks past have been buying in the country, either themselves or through agents, and consequently, a smaller number is sufficient. Quotations for prime 90 to 100 lb fine wool sheep may be given at 8½ to 9; and 105 to 110 lbs, same quality, 9¼@9½.

Following sales were reported:

M. Varner sold 28 good Washington county weathers averaging 95 lbs to H. Richardson at 9 cts.

Jacob Keefer reports having sold 70 head of Lawrence county sheep at 6 to 9.

Neeley and Fairly sold 40 from Armstrong county at $5 to $6,50 per head.

J. S. McMillan sold (last week but not reported) 40 fine wool Washington county weathers, averaging 100 lbs, at 9 cts.

J W Unger sold 12 head of fairish Ohio stock at 8 cts.

HOGS.

The market continues rather dull, the demand from the butchers is gradually falling off, and prices weak but unchanged; sales in a retail way are 4¾@5¼, according to quality.

Carr & McCallister wholesaled 85 to John Herchenrother at $4,85.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Peter Klemen and Jimmy Martin, both well-known cattle dealers, were here to-day on a tour of inspection. They both averred that good cattle here brought as good prices as in Philadelphia.

The commission firm of Ulery Bros., Central Yards (East Liberty) has been dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be continued by Mr. James D. Ulery, who is a gentleman in every way well adapted for the position he has assumed. Mr. Ulery is no new hand; he has been engaged in the stock business for several years.

Our old and much esteemed friend Wm. Blackstock, of the well known firm of Hazlewood & Blackstock, has just returned from Chicago, where he spent several weeks in buying stock for this and other markets.

Sadler, Havens & Co., had three cars cattle come in to-day but at too late an hour to put them on the market. They were sent over to East Liberty.

It is alleged that there is considerable business transacted at the Allegheny Yards on Sunday.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 15, 1872.

Trade was very quiet to-day, and we hope it is not a fair sample of what is to follow; however, there is one consolation, if such it can be called; it became much worse. Refined—In the absence of sales, we quote as follows: buyer last half April, 21⅝; seller first half May, 21¾; buyer last half June, 22⅝. From all that we can learn, there are but few if any sellers in this market at present quotations. Crude—quiet and unchanged; sales at Parker's at $3,27½ per barrel for small lots, and $3,30 for round lots. Barge oil, on spot, nominal at 8¾@9cts.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The market is steady and the jobbing trade is doing a good business, while many of the commission houses are comparatively quiet in printing cloths. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede at this point with nine feet in channel. Weather cold and irregular; there was quite a snow storm early in the day and this was succeeded in the afternoon by rain. Last evening the indications were equally favorable for rain or snow.

The interest of the late Capt. Hugh Campbell in the Mary Davage, was sold at auction yesterday for $1,000 to William Nelson.

The Katie is to be sold at Marshall's sale at New Orleans on the 22d.

Capt. Thos. W Rea has contrasted at Metropolis, Illinois, for a new stern wheel boat 200 feet in length, 33 feet beam, and 6½ feet hold. She is to be launched in seventy days and will be taken to St. Louis for completion. Capt. Rea may contract for a duplicate of this boat within the next few days.

Laborers continue very scarce at the wharf, and boatmen experience considerable difficulty in getting deck crews. Forty cents an hour is now the regular price paid laborers, but, on Sunday for extra work, they were paid one dollar per hour; one of the tow boats paid seventy-five dollars for having a small flat of nut coal, unloaded, carrying it from the flat on to the boat. Some of the boats refused to "coal" at the prices, preferring rather to take fuel coal from their tows.

Business continues fair at the landing, though there is room for improvement.

Com. W. P. Kountz is still making St. Louis his headquarters.

Capt. Stockdales new boat, for Magdalene River, South America, will soon be completed. She will load here for New Orleans.

Towboats are constantly arriving with tows of empty barges, and departing with tows of coal. We presume that fully fifteen millions bushels, have been started down the river.

Capt. Thos. H. Golding, an old and well-known river man, died at his residence, Mt. Washington, yesterday, aged 50 years. Capt. Golding, for many years, was actively engaged in boating on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and was highly esteemed by all who enjoyed his acquaintance.

F. H. Comson lost a pair of coal boats, on Saturday, a short distance below Wellsburg. They were swamped.

The Julia No. 2 arrived from Zanesville with a good trip.

The Ben Wood is reported as having stuck three boats at the "Brothers," belonging to Miller & Co.

The Brill, Captain M. A. Cox, will positively depart for Nashville to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. John Ferguson will be one of her pilots.

The Shamrock has commenced to load for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Carrie Brooks, from Wheeling, arrived and departed as usual.

The West Virginia, Captain Peter Donaldson, is the regular packet for Morgantown and all intermediate points on the Monongahela river to-day, leaving at 3 P. M.

The Exchange, Captain Ed. Evans, is announced for St. Louis forthwith.

A rumor was in circulation on Sunday that the new steamer Exporter had sunk. There was not the slightest foundation for it, and how it originated we are at a loss to imagine.

—The Peoria Transcript of the 11th says: "The water of the river now stands six feet above low water mark, being a rise of four and one-half feet since March 30th. The ice-boats between Henry and LaSalle, which draw each eight feet of water, cannot proceed until the river rises much higher. A day or two ago a few of the ice-boats, drawing not over five feet, passed down the river without inconvenience. The Huntsville will arrive here to-day. Water rising; but slowly.

The Iron Mountain and Bellevernon were at Cairo on Sunday and the Western arrived at Louisville the same day.

—A New Orleans paper says: The great wonder of the age, the iron steamer John T. Moore, is coming, having left Shreveport with 2,250 bales of cotton There is an unusually large amount of tonnage for Red River, and but two packets were receiving. These were the Lotus No. 3 at half new card rates, and the Lottawanna at new card rates.

—Captain Chas. E. Ebaugh has sold the stern-wheeler Bertha for $5,000 to a Mr. Shaw of Omaha, who designs to run her in the upper Missouri country, carrying railroad ties, having a contract with a railroad.

—At Winona, Minnesota, and along the Winona and St. Peter railroad, there is stored, awaiting the opening of navigation, 650,910 bushels of grain.

—White Carroll, of Carroll & Howard, butchers, New Orleans, has withdrawn from the firm, and is coming up to St. Louis on the City of Cairo.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: The Glencoe and Belfast had a race from New Orleans close together—almost together—the Glencoe coming in ahead.

—Dowler's new steamer Interloper is receiving the finishing touches at Rock Island. She has Dowler's patent shoal water propeller.

—Captain Dan. Brady will command the Katie P. Kountz. Captain R. C. Mason goes on the John F. Tolle.

Drowning of a Drunken Man.

On Sunday afternoon a man named Patrick O'Donnell attempted to cross the Monongahela river while in a state of intoxication. When near the middle of the river O'Donnell, who was sitting in the stern of the skiff, fell into the water and immediately sank. All efforts to rescue him were in vain. The body has not yet been recovered. The deceased was about thirty-five years of age, and unmarried.

Runaway in Allegheny.

Some excitement was created in Allegheny yesterday afternoon by the attempt of a countryman's team to enter the dry goods store of A. W. Erwin & Co., corner of Federal street and North alley, Allegheny. The team had been left by their driver a few squares above, and while he stepped into an adjoining house to see a man, they concluded to make an excursion themselves. The wagon to which they were attached was loaded with straw, and in their wild gallop part of it was shaken out and scattered along the road. Just in front of Erwin & Co.'s store they seemed to be attracted by the handsome show window, and concluded to enter the store by that route. They wrapped the wagon around the awning front in the attempt, but although it bent double, it did not break, and the animals were thwarted in their design. The countryman paid the damage.

Reading for the Ladies.

That which interests the ladies is a subject which interests a very large class of our readers, and is therefore one which is eminently deserving of a place in our columns. And anything which interests the fair sex, in a very high degree, in this community of ours, is a matter of no little moment to the entire community. It is therefore with no little gratification that we present, as a matter of news, the fact that Mrs. S. A. Roller, the accomplished lady and artistic and popular milliner, has recently received from the East a magnificent assortment of Spring and Summer goods, consisting of bonnets, hats, ribbons, and all kinds of millinery goods. She proposes a grand opening and a splendid display on Thursday next, and our lady friends who can find it convenient to pay her establishment a visit, will find it to their profit so to do. Mrs. R.'s place of business is at No. 122 East Ohio street, Allegheny.

Fatal Accident.

Acting Coroner Samuel McMaston was yesterday morning called on to hold an inquest over the remains of a young man named Benjamin Fillinger. The deceased had been for two years employed as brakeman on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, and was yesterday morning engaged in making up the train in the yard in this city. While trying to couple two cars, he got between the bumpers, and was terribly crushed when the cars came together. He was instantly killed, life being extinct before any of his fellow-workmen could reach him. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was, "death by accident." The deceased was a German, twenty-two years of age, and unmarried. He was a temperate and industrious young man, and had sustained a good character. He had saved enough money from his earnings to send for his mother, who is now on her way to this country, doubtless anticipating the pleasure of soon meeting her son. It is sad to contemplate the disappointment that awaits her.

A Surprise Party.

One evening last week there was a real surprise party at the house of Wm. McKim, Esq., of Thirty-eighth street, which was one of pleasant remembrances. It was the birthday of the lady of the house, and her husband had made arrangements for a complete surprise to her. Mr. McKim ordered the preparation of supper at an establishment convenient, and invited a few friends, some of whom were let into the secret, to visit his house. The first arrivals being later and more numerous than for usual visits bewildered Mrs. McKim somewhat, but there was astonishment when there arrived at the house a party making more discordant noises than had ever been heard in the neighborhood before. Among the instruments were two old hand-organs, a violin or two, and a tambourine. A string band also soon arrived, and the guests were made perfectly at home and enjoyed themselves hugely. To cap the climax of the surprise to the lady, the supper arrived, but she accepted the situation with resignation, and took her position as hostess with great ease and gracefulness. With music and dancing the hours flew rapidly away, and everybody present will long remember McKim's surprise party.

A Favorite Old Hardware House.

The heading of this article is adopted upon due reflection, and hundreds of old and new customers scattered through Pittsburgh and extending hundreds of miles away, will attest the fact that the hardware firm of Whitmore, Wolff, Lane, & Co., No. 50 Wood street, in this city, is a favorite old hardware house, a house that has been established longer than any other in the city, with a single exception, has sold millions of dollars worth of hardware—retaining the confidence of old customers through many years of correspondence, and constantly attracting new customers, making friends of all who deal with them. Their stock is always large and thoroughly assorted to suit their trade, and their prices so satisfactory that no occasion or pretext is left for passing Pittsburgh to go east for Hardware, Cuttlery, Mechanics's Tools, &c., &c. In addition to the attractions of a complete stock and variety for jobbing or retail always displayed in their store, the personnel of the firm should be considered, and this is everything that could be desired, no breath of suspicion ever attached to any member of it. They are severally noted for strict probity and fairness, and enjoy, as they deserve, the highest confidence of the entire business community. It is proper to add that their supplies are brought direct from the manufacturers in Europe and America, which enables them to sell as low and often lower than the same goods can be bought in New York. See their advertisement in another column.

Spectacles.

Of all human contrivances, probably no one has contributed more to the joy and comfort of our race than the invention of spectacles or glass lens adapted to the human eye, enabling persons with impaired visual powers to see as with the eyes of youth. It is to be regretted, however, that mercenary and unscrupulous makers and venders are permitted to fill the shops with spectacles which, although first seeming to suit, prove eventually a positive injury to the eye. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that this kind should be avoided, and only those manufactured of pure material and by scientific opticians should be bought or used. None of the eminent manufacturers of spectacles are more justly celebrated than Messrs. LAZARUS, MORRIS & CO., whose wholesale distributing depot is at No. 10 Cortland street, New York. These eminent opticians have a manufactory at Sheffield, England, and another at Hartford, Connecticut. The spectacles they turn out are so noted for excellence that both the home and foreign establishments are barely able to supply the ever increasing demand—this extraordinary demand results from the fact that thousands of people have found positive relief by the use of the Lazarus, Morris & Co. spectacles. When the eye aches or the sight grows dim with other glasses, those of L., M. & Co. have been found to give relief and to restore the sight to the sufferer. With them the eye never wearies and the sight is sure to be benefitted. They are sold only by regularly appointed agents in the cities and towns of the old world and the new. These agencies for Pittsburgh and Allegheny have been judiciously located, so that some one of them is accessible in every part of the cities. They are as follows: B. A. Buerkle, 552 Penn street; Mrs. C. Berger, 117 Fifth avenue; D. P. Hoyle, 6 Wylie avenue; Mrs. E. P. Roberts, 16 Fifth avenue, and C. Terheyden, 130 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh; John Kemble, 1823 Carson street, East Birmingham; Sam'l M. Orr, 114 Federal street, Allegheny.

It is thus made convenient for every person afflicted with bad spectacles to provide themselves with the very best, and we advise them to try them. See the firm's advertisement in another column.

PLOWING MATCH AT OAKDALE.

A good indication of the prosperity and go-ahead-a-tiveness of the farmers of the present day is found in the forming of Farmers' Clubs in different parts of the country, and in the Sheep Shearing Festivals and Plowing Matches that are given annually, and to which the practical and prosperous farmers always turn out.

A society bearing the name of "The Fayette Farmers' Club" was organized at Oakdale in the latter part of last autumn, and has already attained to considerable prominence and prosperity. A plowing match was decided on, and was given on the 11th inst., near Oakdale Station, on the farm occupied by Mr. Thomas B. Simpson. It was a decided success, there being a large number of persons present and all manifesting a sincere desire to see a thorough test, and know which of the plows entered would perform the work easiest and best.

The first premium plow for best plowman, was donated by George Spalding, General Agent for the Hickendorn Plow, and the second premium plow for the boy winning the first award was donated by Spratt, Johnson, & Co.

Bostwick donated a No. 2 Centre Plow. S. Hare & Son, and Logan, Gregg & Co., each donated a farm bell, Young & Murphy donated one pair pruning shears, and Messrs Scobie, Reed & Smith a revolving horse rake.

Following is the report of the different committees:

For best trained plow team and handled in the most workmanlike manner.

We, the undersigned, committee on teams and plowmen, do award the first premium, one pair of pruning shears, to Alexander Campbell, (plot No. 10). To the best plow boy, Levi Anderson, (plot No. 14), we award the premium of a revolving horse rake. There were two plowmen on the field, George Moyce and William Auld, of Indiana township, who plowed with teams they had never seen nor handled before, and, under the circumstances, we think them worthy of honorable mention.

FAYETTE FARMERS CLUB—Gentlemen:—We the undersigned committee on best plowing at the match held to-day, beg leave to report that on examination of entries and field, after the work was completed, that twelve men and three boys had entered and competed in the trial, and after a careful and thorough examination of the work of the plowmen, we award the first prize (Heckendorn's Improved Economical Plow), to Plot No. 10, (Alexander Campbell, North Fayette township.) Second award (No. 2 Centre Plow), to Plot No. 2, (George Moyce, Indiana township,) and third award, (Farm Bell,) to Plot No. 6, (R. W. Stewart, South Fayette township.) To boys under nineteen years of age we award the first prize, (Iron Centre Steel Plow,) to Plot No. 12, (Robert Wallace, North Fayette township.) Second award, (No. 2 Clipper Plow) to Plot No. 14, (Levi Anderson, Robinson township,) and third award, (Farm Bell, (to Plot No. 13, (Wesley Ompst, North Fayette township.) Your committee would further report that with but two or three exceptions, which were fair, the plowing was remarkably well done, and we found great difficulty in discriminating between some of the Plots in making our awards. In fact we never saw the work excelled in any trial, and we congratulate you on your success, in this, your first annual match.

The following resolution was adopted by the Club relative to the test of plows:

Resolved, That the following be considered the cardinal points in a plow for general use, to wit: 1st, Pulverizing power; 2d, Ease of draft; 3d, Power to take and retain furrow in wavy and adhesive soils; 4th, Ease of holding; 5th, Best lap furrow; 6th, Strength and economy of wear; 7th, Capacity to lay furrow to hillside; 8th, Non-liability to choke; 9th, Trash covering capacity. And that the judges in giving the award will be governed by the same and will grade the quality of work from 0 to 10; 0 to represent work that would not be tolerated by any practical farmer, and 10 to represent perfect work—the intermediate quality of the work to be graded to these points. The standard furrow to be not less than seven inches in depth, nor more than twelve inches in breadth, and that their report be in tabular form in blank annexed, and that the plow summing the greatest number of points be declared the best, and the plow summing the second greatest number be declared second best, etc. The judges will also examine the plows and report whether the ones tested are in the condition that their manufacturers regularly put them on the market, or whether they have been fixed expressly for trial with steel points, shares or other trimmings.

Oakdale Station, April 11th, 1872.

TO THE "FAYETTE FARMERS' CLUB"—Gentlemen: We the undersigned Committee appointed to conduct the test of plows at the trial to-day, beg leave to report that after a careful and practical examination of the merits of the respective plows entered, (weighing draft with dynamometer,) submit the following report in tabular form. We are also able to report that all the plows entered were operated in the condition in which they are usually put on the market, with the exception of the Iron Clipper, cast metal, No. 10, and the Iron Centre Steel, No. 5, which were both trimmed with colters and steel shares and points not on them as regularly offered to the trade.

THE ANCHOR LINE.

The Great Ocean Ferry.

The Anchor Line of ocean steamers is among the great achievements of modern science and enterprise. Under the able and efficient management of Mr. Francis McDonald, the chief Superintendent of the Line for the United States. The vessels composing the line have been run with the regularity and precision of the Ferries on the East or North rivers, and may be well called a great Ocean Ferry. A first-class steamer leaves New York every Wednesday and Saturday. As passenger boats they afford all the safety and all the comforts that modern ingenuity has devised. They are unsurpassed for strength, they were built in the ship yards of Glasgow, and are of 1,500 to 4,000 tons capacity, they are models of beauty and finish, and thoroughly ventilated, the greatest courtesy, attention and civility are at all times shown to passengers by officers, agents and employees. None of the Lines combine more genuine attractions to the ocean traveller than the Anchor. Our townsman, Mr. Semple, the merchant prince of Allegheny, who crosses the ocean frequently, prefers this line to all others. We learn that his wife and second son will sail on Saturday, 20th inst., for Glasgow, having taken births on the Australia, a noble steamer of the Anchor Line. We suppose, as usual, some hundreds of our citizens meditate a trip to Europe during the spring or summer; we commend to all such the really first class, staunch and very commodious and elegant steamers of this popular line, and their commanders and crews. A trip on such vessels and such officers is a pastime and a luxury.

The Oldest and Best.

No carriage factory, east or west, has earned a higher reputation for the style, finish, or durability of the work turned out than that of C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street. No eastern-made carriage ever brought to this city was finer or better or more elegant in design and finish than can now be seen at their establishment, made in their own shops. They also keep some of the finest eastern-made carriages for sale to such as are prejudiced in favor of such. Their display of fine work is very large and well worth visiting by persons wishing to purchase.

NEW PHILANTHROPIC MOVEMENT.

The Pittsburgh Bethel and Young Men's Home—Consolidation of the Two Enterprises—A Generous Offer Accepted—The New Organization Formed.

A movement has been in progress in our city for the past week, which culminated in a meeting of the friends of the Bethel Work and of the Young Men's Home, on Duquesne Way, held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, and which promises important results.

The meeting convened at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was opened by prayer, by Rev. B. Frankland, President of the Western Seamen's Friend Society.

George Porter, Esq., was called to the chair, and James Laughlin, Jr., appointed Secretary.

A statement and agreement was presented as the basis of consolidation, from which we give the following synopsis:

In December, 1869, a connection was made between the work of the Western Seamen's Friend Society, and the Young Men's Home, projected by Thomas H. Rabe, Esq., the Rev. W. Long, of the Bethel Missionary Society, becoming the Chaplain of the "Home." This connection was still further cemented about fifteen months since by Mr. Long assuming the superintendency of the "Home," under the general direction of Mr. Rabe.

The cost of the real estate on which the Young Men's Home is built, about 44x180 feet of ground, was $12,000; the expense of building, fitting up and furnishing, about $32,000. On this property a mortgage debt has been carried of $20,000; the title of the property being in Mr. Rabe.

In accordance with the plan proposed, Mr. Rabe has offered to convey the title to the property in fee simple, to a Board of Trustees, representing the interests of the Western Seamen's Friend Society, the Young Men's Home and the Home of the Homeless Men, on the payment of the amount of the mortgage debt. This offer has been formally accepted, and the following well known citizens have consented to serve as members of the Board of Trustees thus provided:

Wm. Thaw, Esq., Hon. Felix R. Brunot, J. P. Hanna, Esq., C. J. Clarke, Esq., Geo. Porter, Esq., Thompson Bell, Esq., Col. Wm. Phillips, Thos. H. Rabe, J. A. Caughey, Esq., S. M. Kier, Esq., James Laughlin, Jr., Arthur Bell, Esq., Frank Wood, Esq., J. H. Holmes, Esq., Jesse H. Lippincott, Esq.

Officer Brown arrested accused, he had a hearing, and was committed for trial.

Letter from James Park, Jr.

BLACK DIAMOND STEEL WORKS,
Park Bro., & Co.
Pittsburgh, April 15, 1872.

MESSRS GEO. T. CARTER & CO. GEN'L AGENTS. Gentlemen:—On Saturday last in the forenoon I had an opportunity of practically testing the efficency of the Babcock Self-acting Engine purchase of you in January last—a fire had started from the sparks from the refinery in the extreme upper part of Park & Co's Copper mills building immediateyl adjoining our own works and was making rapid progress. The Engine was immediately brought into requisition and in about one minute a stream from the Engine was playing on the fire and instantly extinguished it. About an hour after another fire broke out some 30 feet distance from the first and in an equally inaccessible place. The Engine was again used with alike result. In the extinguishment of both fires the contents of one tank only were used, yet one-half the contents would have effected the object. As the wind was very strong at the time, it seemed quite evident that the saving of the Copper Works both times due to the Bobcock engine and its ability to act with such prompt efficiency. Owing to the unusually high wind that prevailed on Saturday had the fire made headway, which it certainly would have done had not your engine been on hand, I verily believe the consequences would have been disastrous. I cheerfully endorse the merits of the engine and commend it to the attention of all.

Respectfully, yours,
JAMES PARK, JR.

It is a matter of much importance to the owner of a valuable time-piece to know where he can get it repaired in a thoroughly artistic manner, in such manner as to render it worthy of a warrant for faithful action for years to come, and yet at honest and reasonable rates. We know of no more scientific or skillful artist in this line of business than our very worthy friend, Mr. Christ. Hanch, who has opened an establishment at No. 78 Fifth avenue, where he will devote himself exclusively to watch repairing, an art that he has thoroughly mastered, and in which he has no superiors. He has been raised at the watchmaker's bench, taking instructions from the most accomplished mechanics that ever lived in these parts in that line of trade. His experience is enough to guarantee his clever ability, and now that he has started out on his own account, we hope he may receive that large share of patronage which his ability merits, and which his cordial nature, honesty and enterprise of character warrant. Give him a call, and our word for it you will be fairly treated and abundantly well satisfied in the work he will do for you.

How It Beats Them!

The returns of sales of the different sewing machines, during the year 1871, show the Singer machine to be by far the most popular of all in the market, the number sold being 181,260, out of a total of 610,194 of twenty-five different patterns. These returns show that the Singer Manufacturing Company sold, during last year, as many machines as the Grover & Baker, Weed, Elias Howe, Florence, Eliptic and Empire all put together. This is a wonderful exhibit. This preference for the Singer Machine is due to its intrinsic superiority, and it seems likely to be maintained against all competition.—New York Sun.

WESTERN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

Closing Exercises of the Term—The Alumni Meeting—Sermon to the Graduating Class—The Programme for To-day.

The exercises attending the close of the session of the Western Theological Seminary, which will be held this week, promise to be of unusual interest. Yesterday morning an address before the students, in the chapel of the Seminary in Allegheny, was delivered by the Chairman of the Examining Committee. The closing exercises took place last evening in the First Presbyterian (Dr. Scovil's) church. The programme consisted of a valedictory by Mr. Hull, of the senior class, and a response by Mr. McKibbin, of the Middle class; an address to the students of the graduating class; the presentation of a Bible to each member of the class, after which the diplomas were awarded. The exercises were all of a very pleasant and interesting nature.

The re-union of the alumni will be held this evening in the First Presbyterian (Dr. Swift's) church, Allegheny. Over one hundred ministers are expected to be present. The address of welcome will be delivered by Prof. S. J. Wilson, and responses will be made by Dr. S. G. Nichols, of St. Louis, Dr. Robinson of Harrisburg, and others.

The alumni will hold their class meeting to-morrow morning, at which time a member, previously appointed, will read a brief history of each member of his class, which histories will afterwards be filed with the Library. Fourteen rooms will be required to provide for the classes; but these will be secured in or near the Seminary building.

A memorial meeting will be held to-morrow evening in the Third (Rev. Noble's) Church. Dr. Brownson, of Washington, will read a brief history of the Seminary, after which Dr. Cunningham will read the biographies of deceased alumni.

The exercises of the alumni reunion will close on Thursday noon, by a grand collation at Hartje's hall, on Sixth avenue.

To-morrow afternoon, at three o'clock, the corner stone of the proposed fire-proof library building on Ridge street, near the Seminary, will be laid.

The annual discourse before the Society of Inquiry of the Western Theological Seminary was delivered on Sabbath evening in the Second Presbyterian church by the Rev. Nathaniel W. Conkling, a graduate of the Seminary (class of '61) and now pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, New York city. The theme was "Preaching, as to the matter—the manner and the man." Under these three heads he discussed the subject with great pungency and fervor, and often with thrilling earnestness, so as to leave the strongest impression upon his hearers. The house was filled, and the large audience was held to the close without weariness.

His first point as to matter was Interest. Interest the hearers! all dullness, prosiness, dead orthodoxy, dry and heavy doctrines, and also against mere anecdote, witticism and clap-trap for sensation, he wordet his anathemas—right and left, and he well illustrated what he meant as he went along.

Then (2d) as to manner—The soul aglow, the tongue on fire, these points he enforced by stirring argument and appeals. Reading, if at all, should be like Chalmers—intense, fervid, impassioned, and each his own manner natural. Brevity, also, as against prolixity. No spinning out, stopping at the end, without everlasting conclusions, leaving something for the people to think out.

Then (3d) as to the man. He should be manifestly a man of God—beyond any suspicion or taint of immorality or insincerity. He aimed a prodigious blow against hangers on to the ministerial profession, who carry their character as a certificate, and who are in bad odor and of bad repute. Men of weak morals and of bad record should quit. And so should such as are incompetent, and manifestly unfit for the work and unacceptable to the people.

The discourse was received with great favor, and was well calculated to do lasting good.

MILLVALE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

Public Matters in the Borough.

The Council of the borough of Millvale held a regular meeting last Tuesday evening, April 9th. Council convened at 7½ o'clock P. M. Present—Messrs. Johnson, Coll, Breiner, Hoehl and England. Burgess, T. J. [illegible]nden in the chair, minutes of last meeting read and approved.

A communication was presented from Mr. A. Weber, asking Council to grant him the privilege of removing earth on Stanton avenue in order to make a pavement in front of his premises. Communication received and referred to the Street Committee. The Burgess presented a communication from Sarah Dawson, demanding compensation for the bedding, clothing, &c., which she had in her posession, which by authority of Council had been destroyed because of its being infected with the small-pox. Communication received and on motion of Mr. Coll, the Burgess was instructed (in case of suit being entered against the borough) to proceed and bring suit against Mrs. Dawson for bring the said infected bedding, &c., into the borough limits.

The Finance Committee reported the whole matter in connection with School alley had been settled up as directed by Council.

The Ordinance Committee reported an ordinance requiring all railroad companies crossing Bridge street with their tracks to place a flagman at the crossing. The ordinance, after being amended, was read three times and passed.

The Street Committee reported, through Mr. Breiner, in regard to placing a portion of Sheridan street in better condition for public travel, and stated the committee had received proposals for the filling of the same at forty cents per cubic yard. On motion, the report was received and referred to the Street Committee, with power to act.

The Poor Farm Committee reported that the committee had held a conference with the Committee on Poor Farm of Allegheny Councils in regard to the opening of certain streets, &c. The result of the conference was let the matter lay over until Wednesday following, April 10th, inst., after which final action would be taken in the matter.

The Burgess was instructed to open Lincoln avenue through to Hooker street, Mead alley to Butler street, and Butler street to Lincoln avenue without delay.

The Burgess was instructed to appoint an auditing committee to audit the accounts of the borough during the term of the present Council, after which warrants were ordered for payment of some bills and Council adjourned.

OBITUARY.

Death of Rev. Pollard McC. Morgan.

Death has been very busy among the Catholic priests of this city of late, and has cut down in the prime of life and usefulness several of the brightest ornaments of the Church. This morning we record the death of Rev. Father Pollard McC. Morgan, son of Col. J. B. Morgan, who died after a lingering illness on Sunday morning last in this city. He was a convert to the Roman Catholic faith, leaving the Presbyterian Seminary of Allegheny, where he was pursuing his studies for the ministry, to enter St. Michael's College in preparation for the priesthood, where he was ordained Priest some eleven or twelve years ago. For a number of years after his ordination he was detained at the Seminary as Professor of Rhetoric and Theology, in both of which branches he was a thorough master. He was subsequently appointed to the Pastorate of St. Stephen's church, Manchester, where he made hosts of friends by his kindness, zeal, charity, and the faithful discharge of the duties of his calling. He remained here up to within two years ago, when he, in company with his friend, Rev. H. Denny, founded at East Liberty a branch of the Secular Order of Oratorians of St. Charles, of which Father Faber, Dr. Newman, and Cardinal Manning were conspicuous ornaments. The deceased pastor, though but in his thirty-eighth year, had already labored in the "vineyard of his master" with a zeal, success, and self-devotion and singleness of purpose, which won esteem and recognition among all classes.

This evening the remains of the deceased pastor will be laid in state in the Cathedral, and to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, service for the dead will be recited by the clergy, and at ten o'clock, solemn Requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of the soul of the lamented and deceased, after which the funeral will proceed to St. Mary's Cemetery.

Common Schools in Armstrong County.

[For the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SHADY PLAINS,
ARMSTRONG CO., April 5th, 1872.

Yesterday I attended a meeting that forty years ago would have been derided as an unprofitable thing.

It had been given out that there would be an examination of the "Shady Plains" School in the forenoon and an exhibition in the afternoon.

The morning exercises were commenced by the teacher, Mr. H. H. Wray, reading a lesson from the Scriptures. This was followed by an examination of the classes in all the branches usually taught in the rural districts. Each class acquitted itself very creditably, showing that they had been diligent in their studies, and had had a faithful teacher, both laboring for the common object—a good common school education. At noon an hour's recess was spent in preparing for the exercises to follow. These consisted of essays, select reading, orations, &c. The first was a welcome by Miss Belle Kirkland, next an oration by Joel C. Chambers, then the young Demosthense, John V. Scott, delivered another oration. These were followed by several other original and selected pieces. These exercises were very creditable to all concerned. The audience was both pleased and instructed. Several of the citizens present delivered brief addresses commendatory of the public school system, and contrasting it with forty years ago. MENTOR.

Haunted Houses.

There are evil spirits who haunt our houses and homes in the open daylight. They come in all sorts of questionable shapes, telling all sorts of questionable stories. Several of them sometimes appear at once, making uncalled-for and quarrelsome manifestations. Go where you will, you cannot escape these city canvassers, and though the sewing machine which so lightens labor were a thousandfold more than it is, they would make it look like a curse by their importunities. If one's door be open a sewing machine is thrust in whether wanted or not, and the spiritual medium, Mr. Silvertongue, appears at the earliest opportunity. The Singer Machine employs none of these evil spirits. Those desiring to see the Machine will be waited on at our office, but not at their houses unless by special request.

STRAW & MORTON, Agents,
No. 24 Sixth street.

Democrats and Republicans have now fairly entered upon the campaign, and the political difference between them is readily distinguished, but there is no difference with them in acknowledging that Urling, Follansbee & Co.'s, southwest corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue, is the place to find ready-made gentlemen's suits, which are up to the times, in style, quality, fashion and price.

A GREAT LIQUOR RESERVOIR.

An Hour at Lanahan's New Wholesale House, 355 Liberty Street—Some Philosophical Remarks on the Science of Drinking—The Policy of Consuming Pure Rather Than Adulterated Stimulants—Where The Former May Be Obtained

While no one living in the nineteeth century and observing the peculiarities of its social life, will pretend to ignore the evil of the excessive use of liquor, philosophers have not yet agreed as to its beneficial or injurious effects when taken simply in moderate quantities. All parties, however, from the most rigid prohibitionist to the man who takes his wine after dinner with unfailing regularity, unite upon one propositoin touching the question at issue, and that is that if the consumption of stimulants cannot be wholly restrained, the next most important consideration from a physical point of view would be to exercise such control over their manufacture as to rid the market of the poisonous compounds that now so frequently stock it. Some years ago a New York newspaper startled the public by the publication of an accurate analysis of over one rooms of the Eastern metropolis, showing that hundred specimens of liquors obtaind from the barrooms of the Eastern metropolis, showing that there entered largely into their composition ingredients calculated to produce a most detrimental effect upon the health of the consumer, yet of the existence of which the great majority of the people never for a moment dreamed.

Pure Liquors—Where to Get Them.

Now if every imbiber of spirits turns a practical chemist, and of an experimental turn of mind, he might be able to exercise a proper discrimination in his choice of stimulating fluids, but, unfortunately, as that is not the case, he is left entirely at the mercy of those who are engaged in the trade. A large class of these individuals having the organ of acquisitiveness developed in a greater degree than the bump of conscientousness, the result is that their patrons are supplied with material that not only paralyses the brain, but in course of time enervates the body to a degree beyond computation.

Why this preface? the reader may inquire,—what is the object in dilating on an evil of which few in the community pretend to be ignorant? Briefly answered, it is our aim to impress upon the public the necessity of recognizing the fact that if liquor must be had, it ought to be obtained of the best quality, and, furthermore, to show them how this is feasible, by directing attention at some length to an establishment where the best wines, whiskies and brandies can at all times be had, without fear on the part of the buyer that adulterating processes have been resorted to. This house in question is that of Mr.

James K. Lanahan, 355 Liberty Street, long and favorably known as the proprietor of the St. James Hotel, and a gentleman, who unites to a long experience in everything pertaining to the business strict integrity in business dealings, besides such an appreciation of the means to be employed in conducting a first-class establishment as will recommend it to the immediate and steadily increasing patronage of the public. Mr. Lanahan has opened one of the most extensive concerns in the State at the location named, and the financial capital and personal judgment which he brings into its management will be briefly sketched this morning for the benefit of the trade.

The aim of this new wholesale house will be to supply on short notice the choicest brands of liquor of every description, and as his acquaintance in the community ensures for him at once a wide circle of custom, the facilities which he has brought to bear in carrying out his object have been secured on a comprehensive and liberal scale. To begin with, the building occupied by him is a large four-story edifice, twenty-five feet front by one hundred and twenty feet deep.

Commodious and Convenient.

in all its departments, and supplied with all the mechanical requirements essential for the conduct of a large trade. The visitor on entering finds himself in the office, an elegantly furnished room, provided with everything that an eye to comfort and a purse by no means sparing in its expenditures could suggest. Customers will experience a pleasure in calling there, even as Mr. Lanahan and the salesmen in his employ will esteem it a pleasure to carry on their dealings amid pleasant surroundings. Stretching along by the office is the sample room, 10x20) where buyers are afforded an opportunity of testing the different qualities of liquor on hand, making comparisons and arriving at a final their determination as the grade and extent of their purchase.

Old Whisky on Ground Floor.

In every instance they will find their orders filled in satisfactory correspondence with those samples that may win their favor, so that transactions will be marked alike by expedition and accuracy. The balance of the ground floor, or that part not occupied by the office and sample-rooms, is devoted wholly to the storage of whisky, and affords room for several hundred barrels, and is at present used to its full extent. It will be constantly kept well stored, that all parties, whether ordering in large or small quantities, may be fully and promptly supplied.

Foreign Wines of Every Variety.

On the second floor the visitor will be astonished by the sight of such an immense stock of foreign wines, as he probably did not previously believe, any house in Western Pennsylvania carried Embracing every brand of European vintage and showing a judicious liberality in the assortment, the most epicurean taste could not fail of finding many brands here to suit it. Yea, verily, in ranging the eye along the list of champagnes and sherries, we might well conceive that such a carte could be compiled from them as would be fit for the gods on Olympus, even though that jovial old connoisseur, Bacchus, occupied the judgment chair. The best products of the most famous vineyards are here, and such a variety is there presented that were we to enumerate the different articles in detail, it would require a page rather than a column of the paper. From the effervescing Heidseck to the delicious Muscat, there is scarce any brand of merit that cannot be had the moment mentioned. Of the sherries the Isabella, Harmony, Capadephon and Manzanilla are worthy of special note, but there are other brands innumerable.

Scotch and English Ales and Porters.

On the second floor, also, Mr. Lanahan has stored the famous Scotch and English ales, which are so far superior in strength and nutriment to the ales manufactured at home. The London porter—that beverage which is the delight of the Englishman, and is as great degree indispensable to the satiation of his Britannic appetite as the traditional roast beef—is also on hand in quantity and quality fully commensurate with the general magnitude and character of the establishment. Ales are now-a-days consumed in many families; and if desirous of consulting their interests they ought not fail to visit Mr. Lanahan's establishment, or send their orders there.

Ascending to the third floor, the patron of the house finds in the line of whiskies and brandies a supply which one might, at first sight, suppose to be sufficient to last the bibulous portion of this community for years to come. The feature of their whisky, to which special attention is directed, consists in the important fact that it is perfectly pure. Some very old brands are included in their stock, embracing fluids that were produced in the distillery many years ago, and bearing the imprint on the packages in which they are put up of the most celebrated manufacturers. Retail dealers wishing to obtain a really reliable and good article—something that will do credit to their houses—cannot go anywhere with greater certainty of finding it than at 355 Liberty street. In this department, as in all others, orders will be promptly filled, on short notice, and from as reasonable a price list as any firm in the market is prepared to issue.

Assortment of Brandies.

A writer in a city paper alludes as follows to the fact that there are brandies at Mr. Lanahan's store ranging in age from 1803 to 1870: "Think of this, ye lovers of old liquors! Think of brandy older than your grandfather, whose weight of years has bent and lowered his form and bears him down trembling to the earth, sending him with unsteady gait and tottering steps swiftly on his way to a world where years will be unknown in the endless duration of his existence! Think of this, ye lovers of good old liquors! Brandy that was distilled when your white-haired grand-father, whose voice has long grown shrill with age, was a boy! Think of this, you lovers of choice old liquors! Brandy that was made when your grandfather was a child, though age now shakes his arm so that he can scarce lift a glass of the strengthening beverage to his shrivelled lips!

Cognac, Cherry, Rum and Gin.

Think of this, you lovers of fine old liquors! Brandy that has lain hidden in dark cellars and deep vaults for three score and ten years, undisturbed, though men have ascended to power and Emperors have fallen beneath the wild displeasures of maddened mobs. Wars have waged, hundreds of battles have been fought, and Princes have been hurled from power, nations conquered and reconquered, been prostrated and risen again; dominions have been extended and others obliterated: while national lines of division have been blotted out, and while men have been born, grown old and died.

Think of this, you lovers of pure old liquors! Here are some so old that old age seems to have palsied them, as it were, so thick and oil-like have they become.

Cognacs of the choicest and oldest to be had anywhere in the United States—long since made in France—France, famed for the instability of her people and for the choice quality of her liquors, in neither of which any other nation dare claim to excel her. And here are some of her finest productions stored in our own city for the use of our citizens. The enterprise that secures such a superior stock as this deserves success, and succees is sure to be attained. Blackberry brandies, unexcelled by any in the country, pure and superior in every respect. cherry brandies, also of the finest flavor and unsurpassed for purity. Rum—the stock of this article embraces everything comprehended by that name. Holland gin forms an important part of the stock, and a very important part, too."

EAST BIRMINGHAM.

The Sarah Street Culvert.

The Street Committee of East Birmingham Council held a meeting last evening for the purpose of considering the matter of replacing the wooden culverts of the Ormsby Passenger Railway on Sarah street, with new ones. Messrs. Brown, Eitemiller, Thornton and Burgess Dressel. Street Commissioner Schutte and Street Regulator Patterson were also present.

Mr. Brown moved that the Street Committee recommend that Councils order the railway company to put down iron culverts instead of the wooden ones now at the Sarah street crossings. The motion was, after considerable discussion, carried.

On motion, the railway company was instructed to have the wooden culverts cleaned, since they should have to be used for some time ere the recommendation could be carried into effect.

The Burgess was instructed to call a special meeting of Councils to consider this matter, after which the meeting adjourned.
